

Slaying Triggers Riots in Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — More than 400 Negroes rioted in two slum districts near downtown Tampa early today, exchanging gunfire with steel-helmeted police and burning an entire block in the central Negro district.

The rioting and looting began about 11 p.m. and continued full force for two and a half hours. By daybreak the shooting had ceased and all but one fire had been extinguished.

The killing of a young Negro burglary suspect by a policeman, apparently triggered the riots.

Gov. Claude Kirk, roused from sleep, hurried to the Florida west coast city by jet to survey the riot scene and meet with police and National Guard officers and Negro leaders.

Kirk described the meetings as orderly and said he expected no more trouble. But James Stokely Carmichael arrested ... See story on page 8.

Hammond, Negro administrator of the Tampa Commission on Community Relations, said the violence could continue all week.

Sheriff Malcolm Beard vowed to "use whatever force necessary" to prevent a second night of rioting. He said law officers would disperse any group of more than three persons in the district and would arrest anyone who refused the order to move on.

'No-Man's Land'

During the height of the rioting a mile-square section of Tampa was a no-man's land. Snipers shot at police and firemen with ammunition looted from a gun store in the area.

Other Negroes hurled rocks at riot police who were illuminated by fires which left the area 'bright as day.'

Deputy Fire Chief Charles Wells said none of his men was injured. He said more than 100 firefighters were used to control the flames which caused an estimated $250,000 in damages to two homes, two warehouses and two shopping complexes.

More than a dozen persons were injured during the melee, including one Negro youth who suffered a gunshot wound. Aides at Tampa General Hospital said he was in good condition.

A white deputy sheriff, Sgt. Don Williams, died in the melee of an apparent heart attack.

Negroes fought police with guns and ammunition looted from a gun store in the area as flames from the burning buildings left the scene "bright as day."

Police said a white man was severely beaten after he and his wife were pulled from their car as they drove through the riot area.

"They've got my husband. They're beating him," screamed Mrs. Carl DeWitt. Then she fainted.

DeWitt was released about 45 minutes later, police said. They said he had been savagely beaten. He was rushed to a hospital.

Four young white men arrived bleeding at police headquarters and said they had been attacked in their car by Negroes who smashed every window in the auto with steel pipes.

In the west Negro district, an ambulance driver was pulled from his vehicle while answering a call. He was beaten and hospitalized.

Street Rioters Warned

Heavy firing was heard in the area until about 1:30 a.m. when squads of riot police marched through the streets accompanied by about a dozen police dogs.

An officer in a cruising squad car bled through his loud speaker system.

"Get off the streets or we'll move you. If you are holding a weapon you will be shot."

He repeated the warning continuously as the car led the riot squads through the streets. Police said the rioters retreated into the darkened buildings.

The slum area was lighted only by the flames after the power company turned off electricity to prevent spread of fire.

For several hours, the rioting was held to a 10-by-6 block area in a slum section called Central Village. After midnight the battle spread to the west Negro district.

"They're shooting here," radioed an officer who was sent to investigate a jangling burglar alarm. Three cars were sent to aid the lone policeman. The

Israel Claims Land

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel has denied Syrian charges that its tanks invaded deeper into Syria after a ceasefire but says it intends to keep some of the land it won from Syria, Egypt and Jordan in the six-day Middle East war.

Cheering crowds in the Israeli port of Elath Sunday night greeted the first Israeli freighter to enter the Gulf of Aqaba since Egypt's proclaimed blockade of the gulf led the Middle East to the brink of war.

The Jewish nation had assured reopening of the gulf by capturing Sharm el Sheikh, from which Egyptian guns overlooked the gulf entrance at the Strait of Tiran.

An Israeli army spokesman said the war against the Arabs killed 679 Israeli soldiers and wounded 2,563. Jordan has announced that 15,000 Jordanians were killed. Egypt and Syria have not announced any casualty figures.

Estimates of the number of prisoners taken by Israel, mostly Egyptian, range from 13,000 to 15,000. They still are being counted.

New Resolution

The U.N. Security Council, meeting past 2:30 a.m. for the second straight day, adopted a new resolution demanding that Israel and Syria avoid any forward movement of troops and withdraw any units that have crossed cease-fire lines established Saturday.

Syria said Israel moved armored units forward Sunday. Israel said its tank movements were entirely behind the cease-fire lines. U.N. truce observers confirmed movement of tanks in the area.

Israeli troops now occupy Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, the biblical cities in Jordan west of the Jordan River and a 25-mile Syrian front which extends as deep as 15 miles into Syrian territory. Foreign Minister Abba Eban told a public meeting Sunday night that Israel would not return to the armistice lines of 1949. For the first time, he said, Israel's Galilee settlements were out of danger from Syrian guns on high ground overlooking them.

Former Premier David Ben-Gurion urged the Jews to resettle the Old City of Jerusalem immediately as well as some other communities captured from Jordan.

The Jerusalem Post, which often reflects Foreign Ministry views, said: "The 1949 armistice agreements and their am-istice demarcation lines are no longer recognized by Israel, having been invalidated by Egyptian, Syrian and Jordanian aggression."

Diplomats at the United Nations said they expect the Soviet Union to step up its diplomatic drive to force Israel to pull out of Arab territory. There was no indication what the United States would do. But there was considerable belief that since the Russians did nothing but talk while the fighting was going on, they were not likely to do any more now.

The Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said Red China has offered Egypt a $10-million loan and a gift of 150,000 tons of wheat. Observers speculated that the Chinese were trying to capitalize on Arab resentment against Moscow.

Cairo radio said a general strike closed government offices and shops in Kuwait. It said the strike was to back up Arab charges of American and British armed intervention in the war. Washington and London have denied the charges.

Baghdad newspapers called for a "second round" in the battle against Israel.

Damascus radio aid demonstrators burned a Coca-Cola plant and set fire to the British Bank of the Middle East in Dubai, the business center of the Persian Gulf sheikhdoms. The British Embassy in Beirut and a British bank official said they had no reports of trouble in Dubai.

Napalm Charge

A group of Arab doctors from the American University Hospital in Beirut charged that the Israeli air force systematically attacked hospitals and ambulances with napalm bombs in Syria and Jordan, causing many casualties.

Dr. Munir Shammas, one of 23 physicians who had just returned from Syria and Jordan, said he believed one-third of one-half of the entire Jordanian army were casualties and most were stranded in Israeli-held territory.

In Jerusalem, though, there were signs of willingness by much of the Arab population to cooperate. Unarmed Jordanian police went on their rounds accompanied by armed Israeli constables. Israeli officials began work on restoring essential services and food distribution was reported well organized.

Egypt, Sudan and Kuwait suggested an Arab summit conference to discuss joint moves for recovery.

Senator's Kin Dutchess Air Victim

The 21-year-old niece of U.S. Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) plunged to her death early Sunday afternoon near East Fishkill when a parachute failed to open for her first sky-diving attempt.

Diedre H. Symington of Temple Hall, Virginia, was receiving instruction in sky-diving over the Stormville Airport about 1:30 p.m. At 2,600 feet she leaped from an airplane circling the field and her main parachute failed to function properly.

Another tragedy affecting Dutches County occurred Saturday when Philip Loizides of 5 Putnam Road, Hyde Park fell to his death while visiting relatives in the Bronx.

The young woman apparently made no effort to use her reserve chute, falling onto airport property. Sheriff's deputies said she had taken three hours of instructions before making the sky-diving attempt.

A student at Boston University, Miss Symington was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Symington, who live in Alexandria, Va. Dr. Lillian Orva of New York City pronounced her dead at the scene.

Y Windows Broken

Three teenagers were arrested and charged with public intoxication after breaking three windows at the Kingston YMCA on Broadway early Sunday morning.

The three involved were Daniel and Donald Fedder, both 18, of Box 75 Ulster Park and Lawrence Huntsman, also 18, of Long Beach, Calif.

The Fedders pleaded guilty to public intoxication before Special City Court Judge George Beck this morning and were given a six months suspended sentence, placed on probation for a year and given a curfew of 10:30 p.m. for that year.

Huntsman pleaded guilty to public intoxication but was also being held for malicious mischief for allegedly tearing a toilet out of a wall while being detained in the Ulster County Jail over the weekend.

He is also charged with kicking in the windows. Judge Beck set bail at $75. Huntsman is currently in the Ulster County Jail awaiting a hearing Thursday.

Officials at the YMCA placed the damage at less than $20.

The senator's niece was among 28 persons killed in accidents in the state over the weekend. Traffic mishaps claimed 14 lives, nine persons were drowned and accidents of other types killed five. The count began 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Sunday.

In Staten Island, a 15-foot gate protecting the tomb of Commodore Vanderbilt in Moravian Cemetery fell down and crushed Patricia Krishch-hoch, 24.

The Loizides child, 3, and his mother, Carol, 33, were visiting the boy's uncle, Nicholas Gaitanis, in the man's apartment at West 234th Street, the Bronx on the day of the accident.

At about 5:30 p.m. it was noticed that the boy was missing and a search of the rooms proved futile. The boy's grandfather, Louis Loizides, saw a bedroom window open, looked out into the courtyard below and spotted the crumpled body of the youngster. The child was brought to Jewish Memorial Hospital where he died at 5:55 p.m.

98 Receive UCCC Degrees, Diplomas - - Largest Class Yet

COMMENCEMENT TIME—The total number of degrees—98—matched Sunday's torrid temperatures during 1967 Ulster County Community College commencement. Ceremony principals (L) were Dr. George

B. Erbstein, college president; Mrs. Beverly Britting, valedictorian and Dr. Sebastian V. Martorana, speaker. (Freeman photo by Kruh.)

Ninety-eight students of Ulster County Community College received degrees and diplomas Sunday as the local school graduated the largest class in its three-year history during commencement exercises held at Kingston High School auditorium.

The degrees included 47 for students in the Associate in Arts program, 44 for Associate in Applied Science and seven diplomas for students in the one-year program. A total of 21 graduated with "distinction" for high academic achievement.

Delivering the commencement address was Dr. Sebastian V. Martorana, University Dean for Two-Year-Colleges in the State University of New York, who told the graduates to "go out into the community and tell of the opportunities and quality of education available at your alma mater."

Dr. Martorana added that although the county college had "started with some opposition to overcome, it has persisted, survived and is growing ever stronger because it is working to bring more education to more and more people in the community. The idea of university education beyond high school for two years is rapidly becoming desirable throughout the nation. The question now is how this can be made universal?"

He called the community colleges the "foundation" of the State University of New York "because they open the door to high school graduates who don't have an opportunity for further study any place else."

The speaker predicted that by 1974 nearly 75 per cent of all full-time students in the University will be enrolled in in community colleges.

Valedictorian was Mrs. Beverly Britting, the mother of three children who had earned the highest scholastic average in the graduating class. She said the commencement exercises had a dual significance, marking a new phase in the lives of the graduates and in the life of the college itself as it moves to its new Stone Ridge campus.

Speaking for the College Board of Trustees was John C. Quimby, board chairman, who urged the students to continue their interest in community and academic affairs. "I hope none of you will be satisfied by less than your very best," Quimby said.

Presiding over the ceremonies was Dr. George B. Erbstein, college president. Candidates for degrees were presented by Dr. Irving F. Farle, Dean of Faculty. Dr. Erbstein conferred the degrees.

Commencement exercises began 2:30 p.m. with the academic procession led by Donald Crout, Dean of Students. Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn of Temple Emanuel delivered the invocation and benediction. Musical selections were provided by the College Chorus under the direction of Dr. John F. Park and accompanied by Miss Evelyn Hopkins. The Kingston High School Orchestra, conducted by Mark Baczyński, played during the promenades.

The ceremony ended 4 p.m. after which the graduates proceeded to the annual banquet and ball held at the Flamingo Restaurant. An assembly to distribute awards and medals for academic and extra-curricular achievements has been planned for late summer or early fall.

Graduating with distinction in the A. S. program were Mary Ann Boos, Mrs. Bratting, Colette DeBlende, Johanna deOnis, Judith Doughty, Maria LaBelle, Karen Marchetti, Albert Mikhtarian, Gail Morsillo, Joyce Nussbaum, Joan Ritter and Stuart Ritter.

Nine students earning A.A.S. degrees also graduated with distinction, including Adele Brederman, Thomas Fitzgerald, Herbert Hermans, Gustav Horn, Susan LeFever, Neal Moore, Janet Peischel, Joan Peischel and Sharon Shook.

Other students awarded A. S. degrees were John America, Irva Beatty, Lois Bernstein, Claudia Boomhower, Michael Bradley, Julia Brookowski, Gerard Buboltz, Brian Bushweller, Louis Connola, Marian S. Eckert, Arlene Farone, David Gorbey, Joan Hansen, Thomas Hazelton, and Barry Hopkins.

Also, Judith Irwin, Jeanette Jacobsen, Kathleen Keller, Katherine Kipp, Keith Knudsen, Charlotte Miller, Adelle Myers, Charles Oglesby, Virginia Palumbo, Judith Pitcock, Caryn Pollack, Delia Serrano, day.

Anthony Spada, Hugh Spolaric, Mary St. Denis, Judd Suresky, Rose Mary Toblissen, Ronald VanWagner and Joseph Weber.

Awarded A.A.S. degrees were Justin Ausanio, Gloria Brink, Douglas Constant, Sharon DeCicco, James Dougherty, Daniel Finch, Steven Finkelberg, Stephen Gilligan, Richard Giorgi, Kathryn Graziosi, Rochelle Haslam, Charles Huggett, Kenneth Kittle, Paul Lambiase, John J. McCullough Jr., Gary McKenny and Kenneth McManus.

Also, Joseph Mehm, George Palmatier, Linda Rhymer, Lealand Robbins, Frank Robertello, Barbara Rodrigues, Robert Rubin, Robert Schaffner, Walter Schmidt, Dawn Slawson, Theodore Stroter, William Swan, James Traver, Brian White, Robert Wichmann, Raymond Winter, Kenneth Yates and Joanne Zindell.

Earning diplomas for one year of study were Kathleen Alagna, Susan Amato, Carmina DiPaola, Sharon Horan, Kathleen Heutter, Carolyn Myers and Janice Wormuth. Classes for the College's summer sessions begin Tuesday.

Highest Award For Leombruno

The third person in the history of the Saugerties Jaycees to receive the Junior Chamber International Senatorship Award the highest award that can be presented to a Jaycee, is George Leombruno.

The Jaycees were the proud recipients of four other awards, two third place, a second place and a first place at the recent state election convention held at Rochester. The awards were presented in recognition of the Saugerties local's achievements as compared with other locals throughout the state in similar population areas. Third place awards were received in the areas of Chapter Management and Leadership training and Inter-club Relations, a second place award was received for work in Public Relations, and the first place award was received for activities in the area of International-national Relations. This award was based primarily on the Trip to the Orient and the American Host Programs which were both well received by the Saugerties community. The friendly atmosphere of the Saugerties community is largely responsible for the success enjoyed by the Saugerties Jaycees, members feel.

Attending the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Antalek, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Edmunds, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Leombruno, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kartheiser, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Childers, John Wurster, Lawrence Sasser and John Ballotti.

GEORGE LEOMBRUNO
Luther Claims His Candidacy Non-Political

Richard J. Luther, who has taken his candidacy for county legislator from Saugerties into the June 20 Primary race, said today that "public service, not self-service," governed his decision to seek the Republican nomination here. Luther is not one of the officially endorsed candidates for the post, but he was successful in circulating a petition which will guarantee placement of his name on the ballot this month.

Recently, the Town of Saugerties Republican Club released a public statement urging local voters to support the four endorsed candidates at the polls, noting that only four of the five men running could be elected. Luther's statement obviously stemmed from the club's stand and he said he feels he is "well qualified by any set of standards to serve in the Legislature. He cited his work with youth and his interest in the problems of Ulster County as two reasons why he feels he would be a good choice for the position. He pledged, if elected, to be a "political asset to the local Republican party" and to concern himself with the many aspects of growth and development in the county. He noted he has received the endorsement of the Conservative party and is "unencumbered by any political commitments to any political leadership."

Circus Arrives For Local Cubs

The last meeting before summer vacation of Pack 33 was focused around a circus theme. On June 2 the meeting began outside Saugerties Methodist Church with shows and various events of skill. Den fathers had many activities planned and winners were rewarded with prizes.

After the prize awards, the group moved inside to witness a "One-Ring Circus" featuring Cubs from Dens 1 and 2. They performed as clowns, jugglers, tightrope walkers, trained seals and lions. Cubmaster Frank Anderson acted as ringmaster, announcing various acts while circus music played in the background.

A number of Cubs received advancement awards. Cubmaster Anderson congratulated the boys and their parents for the rapid progress they had made in their rank. Daryl Jones, Brad Holmes, Richard Ridgeway, Dan Cartnell, Robert Gaylog and Matty Rick received Wolf awards. Brad Holmes was also awarded a gold arrow point. William Brooks and Frank Stangerone received Bear awards, and Thomas Mehlich received a Lion award.

Den 1 won the attendance award for the best percentage of Cubs and parents present. Plans for the summer were outlined. The tentative schedule for the summer includes a trip to Stewart Air Force Base on June 24, a visit to Howe Caverns sometime in July and a picnic at Seamon Park on August 26.

Wrong Help

Sometimes it doesn't pay to call on the police for assistance. According to a Kingston City Police Department report, Walter Petruski, 32, of 80 Emrick Street, came home Sunday about 3 a. m. to find himself locked out by his wife. Petruski then called the police. Officers Edward Coughlin and Anthony Turck responding. The policemen surveyed the scene and arrested Petruski for public intoxication. He faced the charges this morning in city court.

Prophetic Words:

GI Killed, Told Mom Not to Mourn

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—freedom. My father fought in World War Two, and it was only right for me to do the same now. I died proudly as a soldier of the United States.

Those were the prophetic words a 21-year-old soldier in Vietnam wrote to his mother here less than three weeks before he was killed in combat.

"I'm writing this now because I'm in the mood—soared," said Army Sgt. Howard Beagle in the letter to his mother, Mrs. Jane Beagle of Glens Falls.

Mrs. Beagle disclosed the contents of the letter this weekend after ceremonies in which her son received two posthumous decorations, the Purple Heart and the New York State Conspicuous Service Cross.

The letter was dated March 20, 1967. Beagle, who previously had won a Bronze Star for gallantry in Vietnam, was killed in action April 10.

It read in part: "We were sent to Vietnam to fight for freedom, and I died for freedom. My father fought in World War Two, and it was only right for me to do the same now. I died proudly as a soldier of the United States.

"Mom, please don't cry or mourn for me. I hope you will be proud of me, and love me as I have loved you and will always love you. Nobody will ever hurt you...because I will always be near...Please keep me in your hearts and remember the happiness we shared."

Beagle's father was killed in an airplane crash several years ago.

His brother, Daniel, a Marine lance corporal, who also had been stationed in Vietnam, has returned to the United States as the sole surviving male member of the family.

Beagle also left a sister, Mrs. Paulette Kokolekas.

Tracy's Private Funeral Same as His Way of Life

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — His private funeral today is in keeping with Spencer Tracy's way of life.

He was one of the world's most famous figures because of his movie roles, but he preferred seclusion off the screen.

A requiem Mass for the two-time Academy Award winner was scheduled at Immaculate Heart of Mary Roman Catholic church. The services were announced as private, as was the burial at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Tracy, who finished his last movie three weeks ago, died of a heart attack Saturday. He was 67. He was alone at the time with a housekeeper in the home he rented from director George Cukor.

The actor's older brother, Carroll, arrived at the house after Tracy had been pronounced dead by D. Mitchell D. Covel. Next came the actor's wife, one-time actress Louise Treadwell whom he married in 1923 but was separated from for many years. She was accompanied by their son, John, 42, and their daughter, Suzy, 34.

Katharine Hepburn, who and was his long-time friend, arrived with Cukor, who had directed them in "Adam's Rib" and "Pat and Mike."

Tracy had been in ill health since 1933, when he was stricken with pulmonary edema at Miss Hepburn's beach home. Two years later he was critically ill after prostate surgery.

Yet he was able to return to acting three months ago, costarring with Miss Hepburn and Sidney Poitier in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

Coming to Dinner." White-haired—and minus 35 pounds—Tracy nonetheless retained his old-time vigor during the three or four hours a day he worked under the direction of Stanley Kramer.

Tracy's last four films were for Kramer, who commented: "Ironically, he was better physically in this one than in any of the others."

Milwaukee-born Tracy impressed Broadway with his forceful charm in plays during the 1920s. He later attributed much of his acting technique to apprenticeship under George M. Cohan.

"Cohan always said to me: 'Spencer, you have to act less,'" Tracy recalled.

The Tracy style was indeed a study of economy. His simple gestures and facial expressions and his realistic delivery of lines made him stand out among more flamboyant actors.

Barbara Bain Has Busy Job at Home, on Screen

BY GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I like having too much to do," remarked Barbara Bain. "There's the challenge of somehow squeaking it all in."

Crowding her life are roles as wife, mother and television supersleuth on "Mission: Impossible." For that last job she won the Emmy recently as starring actress in a dramatic series.

Mounting the steps to claim her prize seemed smilingly cool, sure of herself. Actually she was in more of a daze:

Italian Pastor To Speak Here

Last summer Casa Materna, an orphanage in Naples (Portici) Italy celebrated its 61st anniversary.

During these years, more than 9,000 youngsters have been housed, fed, clothed, educated and loved at Casa Materna. And all because one man cared, and did something about it. That man was Dr. Santi, a Methodist minister, who founded the home for children back in 1905, by the simple act of sharing his home with two small destitute children he found wandering in the slums of Naples. As his adopted family grew, his congregation helped — and later, through the years, thousands of people have been inspired by Dr. Santi's selfless devotion to share their love with the Casa Materna youngsters.

Details of this story and an up-to-date description of the activities of this home and vocational guidance center serving over 400 children this year will be described and illustrated with colored slides by the Rev. Emanuele Santi, son of the founder, who is now co-director of Casa Materna. The Rev. Mr. Santi will be the guest of the Missions Commission of the Kingston Methodist Church Wednesday June 14 at 7:30 p. m. He will speak in the assembly hall of the church and answer questions during the refreshment hour which will follow.

The Rev. William A. Studwell, pastor of the church, has visited Casa Materna on two occasions and is looking forward to the opportunity of sharing his experience with members of his present congregation. The meeting is open to the public.

First Quarter Toll of Traffic Drops Sharply

Traffic deaths in Ulster County and the nation have taken a sharp drop in the first four months of 1967 in comparison to corresponding periods last year.

At the end of April, Ulster County had recorded 11 traffic fatalities in comparison to 16 in 1966 for the same period. The death toll in the county as of June 9 totalled 16 including three boys who were killed when their bicycles were involved in separate collisions with motor vehicles.

Two pedestrians have lost their lives in traffic accidents in the county this year. Six of the county fatalities, involved one car.

The April death toll in the nation was 3,920, compared to 4,360 deaths in April 1966, The Associated Press reports. The four month total for 1967 was 14,710. This compared with 15,020 last year, a dip of 2 per cent.

A spokesman for the National Safety Council said the 10 per cent drop in April is "not as good as it looks at first glance." He noted that last year's April toll was up 19 per cent from April 1965.

The safety council said it has revised its 1966 traffic death toll estimate upward by 500 — from 52,500 to 53,000 — on the basis of more complete information. Last year's total of 52,000 was an all-time high.

Downtown Area

Editor, The Freeman:

As a former president of the Downtown Businessmen's Association and a resident of this area for the past 47 years, perhaps I am in a position to express my views as concerns the downtown area.

Years ago the waterfront was the focal point of business. As things progressed, the trend was for the new and greener pastures. At that particular time the uptown area was the most promising. The business and residential sections along the waterfront were the sections that took the beating. Landlords took everything out of the buildings and did little to keep these dwellings up. You have a certain element of people that would sooner move into such a section, sit on their rear and let you and yours take care of them instead of trying to take care of themselves. Do not question me on this point because I know what I am talking about.

These sections of the city invited the low class of people. One of our most distinguished and honorable mayors, Ed Radel, started the work of Urban Renewal.

Due to the three elements of government, state, federal and city, things progressed slowly but eventually Urban Renewal became a reality. Meetings were called and all had the opportunity to do their bidding. They warned the people of the hardships that would go with Urban Renewal but evidently these hardships to come were accepted. Things progressed at a slow rate but due to the vast program, small gains were not noticeable. We have a bunch of critics in the city that if they put their action where their mouth is, we would have a super city to live in.

In regards to Mr. Hemphill and his staff of workers, I think that they are doing a good job. When Mr. Hemphill and his staff placed better than three quarters of a neighborhood in a comparatively better neighborhood and a start for a better community and a better life. I would give Mr. Hemphill the world of credit and not of a world of shame.

A certain radio commentator, a Know It All, claims that the people of this particular section were put in sub-standard dwellings, where I do not know. If in any part of the city there are more sub standard dwellings than in the sixth ward, let that gentleman come down and show me.

Another thing our critics are yelling about is the rubble that is laying about. I want to see one of these critics show that this rubble is doing any harm. Come down and tell me, perhaps I can give you a couple of aspirin to relieve the pain. I happen to be acquainted with the demolition crew and find that they are cooperating as much as possible to keep the streets and sidewalks clear and let pedestrians and traffic move without any due danger.

As far as the city hall is concerned, I do not know of any part of the city that would be better suited than a section of the sixth ward, coming right off of a brand new planning board. As far as transportation is concerned, that is the least of problems. I would sooner travel two or three minutes more than to spend ten minutes looking for a parking space. If our certain radio commentator did any traveling abroad, he would find some of the most beautiful sections are along the waterfronts.

Yours truly,
RAY CWILL

Goat Breeders Meet

Robert Guzewish, agriculture extension agent, showed a movie, Winning the Worm War at a recent meeting of the Catskill Mountain Chapter of the New York State Dairy Goat Breeders Association.

Plans were made to incorporate the Dairy Goat 4-H Club with the present Sheep 4-H Club. Any boy or girl interested in raising a goat should contact Edward Barry or Mrs. Sadeth Schley.

It was also decided to attend the Dairy Goat Show at the Schaghticoke Fair July 23.

Scotia Pastor Named Reformed Church Head

The General Synod of the New Brunswick Theological Seminary, New Brunswick, N.J. last week elected the Rev. Harold Schut, DD, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Scotia, as its president.

Dr. Schut served as the vice-president of the Synod this past year. He is a past president of the Synod of New Jersey, and a past president of the board of superintendents of the opening address, recognized tensions in the life of the Church, but pointed out that most of the great leaps forward in the life of the Church have come out of tensions. The Church is not obsolete, he said, but "it must be alert and resilient enough to be prepared to alter its strategy, tactics, or structure in order to fulfill its mission in this rapidly changing world."

Phone Workers Set Convention In Kansas City

Members of Local 1120 of the Communications Workers of America, AFL-CIO, will be in attendance at the union's rank and file convention starting June 19 in Kansas City, Mo.

The week-long convention, which ranks as the union's top policy-making body, is scheduled, among other top attractions, to hear Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on Wednesday, June 21.

Harold E. Van Eiten, president of Local 1120, said that delegates from this area will include: himself; Robert E. Faure, Newburgh area, treasurer; Robert E. Smith, Kingston area representative and Leroy Terwilliger, Poughkeepsie area representative.

In addition to hearing reports from the union's Executive Board, delegates will elect five national officers, nine vice presidents serving in regional offices, and four directors of national units.

Also included on the agenda: election of a rank and file Collective Bargaining Policy Committee, which meets at the call of CWA President Joseph A. Beirne to set bargaining goals for the union.

Known as "the community minded union" CWA is unusually active in community service work at the home town level. Local 1120 covers Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Monticello and Catskill-Hudson areas.

Aldrich Will Explain Valley Society Role

Alexander Aldrich, executive director of the Hudson River Valley Commission, will speak at the annual meeting of the Hudson River Conservation Society on June 20.

The meeting will be held at Olana, the home of Frederic Edwin Church, three miles south of Hudson, on Route 9. A box luncheon will be served at noon prior to the meeting scheduled to start at 2 p. m.

Aldrich will address members of the Society and guests on the topic, Focus on Balanced Development—A Six Month Overview on First Steps of the Hudson River Valley Commission.

With loss of home rule being charged on one hand, and warnings about the Federal government turning the Hudson River corridor into a reservation on the other, Aldrich is expected to explain the immediate role of the Hudson River Valley Commission.

Population is increasing along both banks of the Hudson and is bringing corresponding industrial growth, making the concerns raised 30 years ago by the Hudson River Conservation Society when it was founded, into acute issues. Interest in preserving the beauty and historic values of the river corridor is growing in both state and national circles.

What the actual role of the new Hudson River Valley Commission is has caused some confusion and controversy in several river communities. The Hudson River Valley Commission has been called "toothless" in some quarters. Several local governments on both shores of the river see in the Commission a threat to home rule. This was spotlighted by the turning away of Georgia Pacific's plans for a wall board factory on the Hudson near Cold Spring. Other officials have praised the purpose of the Commission while some planners in the region see the rules and regulations of the Commission as lacking in specifics to guide potential development.

Standing in the middle of these conflicting forces, Director Aldrich is expected to describe how the commission will meet the problems as they develop.

The Hudson River Conservation Society was founded in 1936 with five general purposes as its goal—to protect and maintain the beauties of the Hudson Valley, to preserve its scenic and historic landmarks, to eliminate the pollution of its water and air, to develop its recreational values and to cooperate with industry and where necessary, to seek its regulation in order to help achieve these aims.

Students Aid Poor

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are 6.5 million college students in America and more than half of them are interested in volunteering to live and work among the nation's poor, according to a survey by the Gallup Poll.

The survey results were released by the Office of Economic Opportunity, an antipoverty agency.

"It is something we have believed for some time but this is a scientific survey which confirms our views in black and white," said Bill Crook, director of Volunteers in Service to America.

Dad Gets Degree

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph G. Ebel, 40, father of 10, gets a doctor of philosophy degree today from Cornell University.

Ebel has been going to college off and on since 1951. In 1963, he earned a degree in agriculture and decided to try for his doctorate. He worked as a construction laborer and farmer.

The children of Ebel and his wife, Donna, range in age from 3 to 15.

The family lived in his native Arcade, N.Y., nearer to Buffalo than to Cornell, until 1962, when they moved to Newfield, a community south of Ithaca.

Despite his success at Cornell, Ebel feels that "my biggest dilemma is right now—what job?"

Among other things, he is considered a career in the academic world: "I really enjoy working with students."

Honor for Freeman

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Dr. Paul Freeman will become the first Negro to conduct a major Southern orchestra when he leads the New Orleans Philharmonic in appearances in Houston and Baton Rouge in November.

Freeman, 31, currently is in San Francisco where he has conducted the San Francisco Symphony. He will open the midsummer music festival there June 18.

A graduate of Virginia State College at Petersburg, Freeman played with the Richmond Symphony before taking a Ph.D. degree from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N.Y.

Avoids Air Crash

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—A landing jetliner narrowly missed a small plane with actress Phyllis Diller and her husband aboard early Sunday at San Juan International Airport, a spokesman for her film crew said.

The spokesman said Miss Diller and her husband, Ward Donovan, had chartered a light plane to fly to the Virgin Islands, but the craft developed engine trouble and had to return to San Juan.

On landing, the pilot called for a tow truck. An incoming jetliner, apparently not noticing the small plane immediately, pulled to a stop in time after landing.

195th Rose Rites

MANHEIM, Pa. (AP)—For the 195th year, a red rose was presented Sunday to a descendant of Baron Henry W. Steigler who deeded the land on which stands the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church.

The rite commemorated the date in 1772 when the baron gave the land to the congregation for five shillings and the rent of one red rose to be paid yearly in June.

Frank Demmerly Jr. of Hadonfield, N.J., an eighth-generation member of the Steigler family, accepted this year's rental rose from Judge Carl B. Shelley of Pennsylvania's Commonwealth Court.

Car Victim Weds

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Joan Pellegrini, who lost both feet in an auto accident last August, walked down the aisle Sunday for her wedding.

The 24-year-old blonde was crushed against a stone wall by a speeding stolen car at her home in West Quincy. Doctors had to amputate her left leg near the knee and her right foot just above the ankle.

Joan made up her mind she would walk down the aisle for her scheduled wedding.

And walk she did, down the aisle of St. Mary's church for her marriage to Joseph H. McDonald, 25, of Arlington, Mass.

"But leave it to me to pick a church with a lot of steps," she said.

All persons interested in the activities and programs dealing with migrants and resettled farm laborers are invited to attend this meeting.

SUMAC, established during 1966, has conducted a program for farm laborers and their families during the year, upgrading their educational, economic and social levels through appropriate schedules and in cooperation with established state, county and local agencies.

Harley F. Taylor, director of SUMAC and William Boone, education coordinator, will preside in reviewing past accomplishments of this organization and outline future activities.

Nominees for president will be Mrs. Pearl Lewis succeeding Mrs. Amalia Gebbie. Other nominees: vice-president—the Rev. Vernie Bolden succeeding himself, treasurer—Kenneth Taber succeeding himself and secretary—the Rev. Albert C. May succeeding himself.

Slaying Triggers

owner of the store reportedly declined to come into the neighborhood to shut off the alarm.

Looters Arrested

Patrolman J. R. Clark said eight persons were arrested, he said there were reports of isolated looting throughout the city.

Police said looters raided a large gun store, grocery stores, a liquor store, laundries, a pharmacy and two wig shops. Many of the stores burned to the ground along Central Avenue. There were reports that firemen were shot at and refused to enter the riot area without police escorts.

The shooting incident which apparently sparked the riot on a muggy summer night occurred at Nebraska Ave. and Twigs St. when Martin Chambers, 19, was shot as he ran from a policeman.

Patrolman J. P. Calvert said the boy and two others had broken into Tampa Photo Supply Co. and stolen cameras.

"Was Last Resort?" The officer said he shot Chambers as a "last resort" when the youth ignored the officer's orders to halt.

"Why did it take a policeman to shoot a teen-ager? one Negro asked after the shooting. There was some grumbling but no immediate trouble.

A drenching two-hour rain followed and about 10 p. m. reports of looting were received by police. Groups of looters smashed windows and stole from the stores, police said.

A riot squad that began with 100 helmeted officers, some with leashed dogs, swelled through the night and was bolstered by an armored riot mobile unit from the highway patrol equipped with tear gas guns and a water cannon. The bottom edges of the truck are razor sharp so it cannot be tipped.

The entire area was a nightmarish battle scene with electric power off. Flames from burning stores reflected from the smoky white pall over the city.

James Hammon, a Negro, administrator of the Tampa Commission on Community Relations, said the trouble apparently was triggered when the Negro burglary suspect "was shot in the back."

He said most of the rioters were under 20. He said many of the original rioters knew the youth personally.

Hammond said that in an area on Central Avenue, between Cass and Scott streets, where the looting and torching occurred, every store burned was owned or operated by whites.

A generation generally is considered as being 3 years, thus allowing three generations to a century.

Named to YMCA Director Board

Ralph H. Stewart, president of the Kingston Young Men's Christian Association, today announced that Sam S. Pepper, vice president of the Kingston Board of Education, Consolidated, has been elected a new member of the Board of Directors of the association.

Pepper has been associated more than a decade with the Howard R. St. John, Inc., local general insurance agency, and is vice president of the firm.

Born, raised and educated in Virginia, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Virginia in 1950. He came to Kingston from Beistol, Ga., in 1952 as the result of an assignment transfer.

His military service record includes five years of active duty as first lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps. He served with the Fourth Marine Division in the Pacific theater during World War II and with the Second Marine Division during the Korean Conflict.

His wife, Mary, was a school teacher in Virginia during their first years of marriage while he was in military service. They have three children, two girls Julia and Mary Frances, and a son, Sam S. Pepper Jr. They reside in Hurley.

Pepper joined the Kingston Board of Education in 1962 and was elected vice president last year. He has served as chairman of the Supply and Finance Committees and transportation committee of the Board. He is genuinely interested in the improvement of local education programs within the district.

He is a member of Kingston Rotary Club, past president of Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and has served as chairman of the professional division of Kingston Area Community Chest. Pepper is a former Sunday School superintendent and consistory member of Fair Street Reformed Church.

An active worker in town and county politics for many years, he was elected chairman of the Hurley Republican Committee some time ago to succeed Charles Relyea, former chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

Friends say, "Sam still retains a trace of southern flavor in his speech."

Court Kayoes Walker Libel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court threw out today a $500,000 libel judgment won by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against The Associated Press.

All nine judges voted to set aside the judgment, won by Walker in a Fort Worth, Tex., state court in 1964. They entered four separate opinions to state their views.

In the controlling opinion, Justice John M. Harlan said there wasn't "the slightest hint of a severe departure from accepted publishing standards" in the way The Associated Press reported Walker's activities at the University of Mississippi campus at Oxford in 1962.

"We therefore conclude that Gen. Walker should not be entitled to damages from The Associated Press."

Quick Quiz

Q—What is the significance of the serpent on the insignia of the U. S. Marine Corps?

A—The insignia is patterned after the staff of the Greek Aesculapius, around whose staff, called a caduceus, is entwined a serpent. In ancient days, the serpent was the symbol of health because it could shed its skin and appear young again.

Q—How many men have been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor during the Vietnam war?

A—Sgt. Robert E. O'Malley is the first Marine and the 10th American serviceman to be awarded the nation's highest military decoration. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Q—What is the title of the president of the United States?

A—He is distinguished by having no title. A governor is addressed as "Your Excellency," a judge as "Your Honor," but the chief magistrate of the nation is simply "Mr. President."

Blanche Rosett Dies at 93; Was Patron of Arts

Mrs. Blanche Brownell Rosett, wife of the late Dr. Joshua Rosett, died at her home in New York City, June 8, at the age of 93.

Since 1938 Mrs. Rosett spent much of her time at her Ohayo Mountain home in Woodstock, where earlier her husband, the well-known neurologist, had established a brain research laboratory.

After his death, Mrs. Rosett expanded her interest in the native handicrafts of the Catskill area in which she had long exerted her creative sponsorship. This interest culminated in 1953 when she presented the Woodstock Guild of Craftsman, Inc. with the building and property on Tinker Street in Woodstock.

As former president of the Guild, Mrs. Rosett was instrumental in establishing a training center for craftsmen. Today classes are still offered in the picturesque setting on Tannery Brook by the educational facilities of the Guild of Craftsman, a non-profit organization dedicated to the furtherance of fine art crafts in this area.

Surviving Mrs. Rosett are her two daughters, Mrs. Marion Henry of Oakland, Calif., and Helen Biddle Adelin of Old Westbury, Long Island; also a sister, Miss Mary Brownell, residing in Vermont.

Liam O. Douglas, criticizing exploitation of resources.

Youths of Nation to Share In Natural Beauty Project

By SALLY RYAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Teen-agers, who traditionally have battled their parents over cleaning their own rooms, have taken on a new project; cleaning up the country.

This is "Youth for Natural Beauty and Conservation Year," by presidential proclamation.

In Rhode Island, the Pawtucket Boys' Club dredged debris from the Blackstone River and helped restore an historic mill. In New Mexico, thousands of youngsters sowed wildflower seeds along the highways. In New Jersey, they planted dune grass to combat beach erosion at Sandy Hook State Park. In Washington, they tore down a dilapidated building and helped clean up an old resort for a park near Seattle. And in California, Boy Scouts are planting trees in Los Angeles' troubled Watts area. "The kids want a piece of the action," said Diana MacArthur, "We're not just in the tulip-planting business. We're in the business of searching out what young people can do and finding a place for them to do it."

Mrs. MacArthur, 34, a former Peace Corps official, is project coordinator for the National Youth Conference on Natural Beauty and Conservation. Last June, 500 representatives of youth organizations gathered on the White House lawn and heard President and Mrs. Johnson challenge them to do something about the litter and neglect of a careless civilization.

The whole idea was to see how young people would respond to the challenge, how they would go about achieving their goals and how the community would respond to them," Mrs. MacArthur said. "I think we have started the dialogue. That is the important thing. Once young people prove they can do something, adults are willing to relax and accept the need of young people to become part of decision making."

In Louisiana, the governor proclaimed 1967 "Youth for Natural Beauty and Conservation Year." The governor of Connecticut declared an official "Litter Day" in May at teen-agers' urging.

Some of the projects could only have sprung from lively young minds.

Loretta Shadow, 17, of Ruston, La., organized Project CRUD—Campaign to Remove Unsightly Debris. Hundreds of youngsters picked up debris along Louisiana roads, and methodically sorted it. Cans and food containers were most numerous, they reported followed by beer cans, paper and tobacco waste.

In La Porte, Ind., a teacher projects, that automobile manufacturers install litter containers as standard equipment, that firms which manufacture disposable products use antilitter advertising messages, and that attention be drawn to depressed areas by giving Ugly Block Awards.

Teen-agers in Rochester, N.Y., painted oil drums bright colors and distributed them for use as litter barrels. They also cleaned a creek.

Last June, the teen-agers proposed that the courts assign young offenders to work off their punishments in park projects, that automobile manufacturers install litter containers as standard equipment, that firms which manufacture disposable products use antilitter advertising messages, and that attention be drawn to depressed areas by giving Ugly Block Awards.

Mrs. MacArthur says nothing of the crack in the Liberty Bell occurred as it was being rung during the funeral of John Marshall, chief justice of the United States.

Jurors Group Elects Officers; Slate Dinner

At the regular meeting of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association, held last week at Ulster County Court House, the following officers were elected:

Chester Elliot of Highland, president; John Meyers of Cortland, first vice president; Ida Howard of Town of Ulster, second vice president; Mildred Burgher of Ulster, treasurer.

and Anna M. Ashdown, secretary.

Elected to the board of directors were the officers and Anne Webster, Marie Keyes, Edwin Kolts, and Percy Crosswell, all of Kingston, and John Mohacsi of Stone Ridge, Josie VonBorstel of Modena, Vivian Dederick of New Paltz, Mary Portuese of Ulster, and Hugh Kasten of

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Gun Battle Follows Carmichael Arrest

By REX THOMAS
PRATTVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The arrest of Stokely Carmichael, black power advocate, touched off a gun battle Sunday between police and Negroes. National Guardsmen moved in early today with orders to shoot to kill if necessary to restore order. The guardsmen and police raided a house involved in the gunfire and removed some 30 Negroes and a double-barreled shotgun. Several rounds of ammunition were found in a car parked outside, Sheriff Phillip Wood said.

Marquardt Cites

John E. Marquardt of Glenford, a Republican candidate for county legislator in the 2nd District, stated today that he heartily commended the president of the Marblertown Republican Club, Frederick Meyer, and the committee members from the GOP clubs in the Towns of Hurley, Kingston, Marblertown and Ulster for the outstanding job they have done in planning and organizing Tuesday night's "Meet Your Candidates" program at the West Hurley Fire Hall.

Marquardt said that the program will give the Republican voters of the 2nd Legislative District an excellent opportunity to listen to the seven candidates who will be on next Tuesday's Republican primary ballot, and to judge their respective qualifications for the office of County Legislator.

The Republican, who is the former president of Hurley Republican Club, went on to say that tomorrow night's meeting, which is scheduled to begin promptly at 8 p. m., will not only be a means of allowing the Republican voters to see and hear their candidates, but it should also do much to bring about a spirit of cooperation between the various Republican clubs in the newly constituted Legislative District.

Marquardt, who is from the Town of Hurley, said that in addition to himself, the candidates appearing will be Frank Miller, who is also a Hurley resident, Douglas Dye of Kingston, Robert Kelder and Orvil

Marblertown GOP

Norman of Marblertown, Lester Elmendorf and Richard Nace of Ulster.

The format will allow each candidate to speak for five or six minutes to make their presentations but there will be no debates between candidates. Due to the limitation on speeches the entire program should not last more than an hour. Refreshments will be served after the presentations.

Speaking as a candidate, Marquardt said that he welcomed the opportunity to present his qualifications for the office of county legislator, and he sincerely hoped that the meeting would help to inform the Republican voters of the district about their candidates, and assist them in choosing the five Republicans who will appear on the ballot in November.

Marquardt also pointed out that those who are finally elected as county legislators will be facing the double responsibility of not only assuming all of the duties of the present Board of Supervisors, but also creating a new form of county government, and he added that it is vital for the voters to select candidates who are qualified to accept and discharge this great responsibility.

Reaps Whirlwind

"Negro requests for justice have for the most part been met by apathy at best and repression at worst. Having sown the wind, American is now reaping the whirlwind." —U.S. Education Commissioner Harold Howe II, addressing graduates of Shaw University in Raleigh, N.C.

The troops and civilian officers, numbering more than 150, met no resistance when they moved in after a nightlong vigil. Seven Negroes were taken into custody for questioning. The others were told to go home.

The gun battle left three law enforcement officers slightly injured. Three patrol cars were damaged by shotgun pellets.

The violence came after Carmichael was arrested Sunday on a disorderly conduct charge. Police Chief Obie Thompson said Carmichael threatened to kill one officer and told police he would "tear up this town."

Carmichael remained in jail overnight. The sheriff said he would be eligible for bond.

The National Guard troops were ordered to Prattville after a gun battle of more than three hours between Negroes and police.

One of the Negroes in the house told officers he "got trapped in there and couldn't get out." He said he had just left a church across the street when he heard shooting and ducked into the house for safety.

The gunfire erupted, Wood said, after Assistant Police Chief Kenneth Hill narrowly escaped injury from a bullet which tore through the window of his squad car as he drove through the Negro residential area.

Hill ducked and lost control of his car, sending it into a curb and knocking him unconscious when his head struck the interior of the car. He recovered quickly and was back on duty after a physician at Prattville General Hospital found no evidence of serious injury.

Also treated at the hospital for superficial shotgun wounds were city policeman Norris Champion and Autauga County Sheriff's Deputy John Griffin.

Chief Thompson said the officers went to the Negro First Baptist church and found Carmichael and a group of Negroes outside after a Montgomery resident complained he had been threatened with a shotgun as he drove past the church.

Navyman Retires After 30 Years; Former Resident

A Kingston native who has received the recognition of many countries in addition to his own has retired after 30 years service with the U. S. Navy.

Capt. George S. Robinson was public works officer for the Naval Air Training Command, Pensacola, Fla. for the past three years. Prior to his recent stateside assignment, Capt. Robinson served in Southeast Asia, heading vital construction project in Vietnam and Thailand.

He received the Army Commendation Medal and Joint Services Commendation Medal for Army, Navy and Air Force projects.

He also received commendation from Thailand, France and Haiti.

The captain, a 1932 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, is a member of Tau Beta Pi, National Engineering Honor Society, and has completed extension courses at Harvard University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and George Washington University.

He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Society of American Military Engineers and is a Mason and a Shriner. He is a licensed professional engineer and land surveyor in New York, Alabama, Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

Unique in Navy annals, Capt. Robinson is one of five engineers selected by the Bureau of Yards and Docks in 1937 by professional examination for direct commissioning as officers in the Civil Engineer Corps. Over 800 engineers from 345 colleges and universities competed for this honor in a week-long, nationwide series of tests.

Capt. Robinson was third among those selected.

Capt. and Mrs. Robinson, the former Margaret C. Searle of Kingston, have a son, Lieutenant George S. Robinson Jr., now stationed with the 40th Mobile Construction Battalion at Chu Lai, Vietnam.

Capt. and Mrs. Robinson will reside in Vero Beach, Fla. He is to be vice president, Trans-State Dredging Co., Fort Pierce, Fla.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING....

Investment Advisor & Analyst
Build Up Capital For Future Needs

Q) "Our ages are 37 and 49. We have $5,000 over and above the amount set aside for emergencies and would like to invest it in stocks. Could you help us? Since my company has no retirement plan, we shall have to depend on Social Security and our investment income when I retire." M.L.

A) Many readers have asked a similar question and I am glad to have the chance to reply. You have about nine income-producing years remaining, assuming you retire at age 65. Upon retirement, you will want to put your money into safe stocks which offer a good return.

During the next nine years, however, you should aim primarily for appreciation in order to build up capital to supply your later needs. I believe that you should divide your $5,000 into three equal parts, buying such quality stocks as Baxter Laboratories, Warner-Lambert and Cenco. These three issues have good prospects and should go a long way toward assuring a secure retirement for both of you.

Q) "Does the New York Stock Exchange approve all issues listed there?" P.R.

A) It is certainly not the function of the Big Board to place a stamp of approval on all securities which enjoy a listing. The Exchange's job is to supply the best organized and widest possible marketplace for securities which meet minimum standards at the time of listing.

The Exchange requires adequate financial reports and tries to protect buyers against fraud or non-compliance with its rules. Under certain circumstances the Exchange can and will delist a stock. Since the privilege of listing carries a great deal of prestige, companies will make every effort to protect their listing by operating within the Exchange's requirements. There is no guarantee, however, that any listed security will remain solvent or that fraud may not occur.

65 Inspections Due This Month

ALBANY — Motorists who own 1965 automobiles and trucks exempt from compulsory inspection before renewing the registrations last October and November are reminded that the vehicles are due for inspection before the end of June.

The Department of Motor Vehicles points out, however, that if these owners have had the inspection performed since the vehicles were registered for the current year, they need not have it done again.

The Department suggests that the owners of 1965 models check if they have inspection stickers on their windshields to make certain that the inspection has been done. The sticker also will tell them when the next inspection is due.

Persons who purchase used cars, either from a dealer or a private party, are responsible to see that the car is inspected, although some dealers do so before delivery. The inspection must be passed before the used car may be registered.

July marks the end of the transition inspection schedule and by August 1, all New York-registered motor vehicles will have joined in the program. From then on, owners will be able to select their own inspection schedule, providing ensuing inspections are passed within a 12-month period of each other.

DE GAULLE: GOLD EXPERT
President Charles de Gaulle of France may prove to be the smartest monetary expert of this generation. His government has been the world's biggest buyer of gold in recent years. In 1960, France's gold reserves totaled $1,641,000,000. Right now, they are about $5,250,000,000. Three years ago, they were $3,725,000,000.

In the meantime, the gold reserves of the United States have gone from a 1960 amount of $17,800,000,000 to about $13,160,000,000.

Today, on the international scene, both gold and silver are in the headlines. One of the ablest monetary economists in America, who is a top-ranking corporation executive, owns a lot of gold and silver equities. In a talk with him very recently, he predicted a sharp rise in the price of silver soon and later on, a substantial rise in the price of gold.

Silver futures are booming in price. The supply of this metal in America is rapidly diminishing and its use is multiplying.

In the United States, there are dozens of dormant gold and silver mines. With gold at about $35 an ounce and with silver around $1.29, these mines can't operate profitably.

But, as in 1933, when the price of gold was increased from $20.67 an ounce to $35 an ounce, if the price of gold were to go up again, these dormant mines would reopen because they could make money.

Likewise, silver mines. Silver is in very short supply in America. But if the present price were increased from $1.29 an ounce to $1.50-$2 those idle mines would reopen.

Inflationary dollars, created by the monetization of the growing federal debt, flood the country. It would take little to stir up a rampant interest in gold and silver shares.

The imbalance of payments between the United States and foreign countries has caused America to lose billions of dollars of gold.

As this column has recently stated, gold earns nothing. But many countries around the world that have dollar balances here prefer to take their money in gold rather than in good-paying government bonds.

Foreign countries that are in the center of this situation include Belgium, France, the Republic of Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland and the United Kingdom.

The flare-up of silver prices is already here. Before this article appears, it is possible that silver futures will be considerably higher in price. A silver expert expects a big demand to develop for the metal during 1967.

Gold will probably follow later. And since, as a monetary base, it is more universally valued, its price movement may be more volatile.

MONEY can't buy better sleep than this

Billionaire sleep for pennies on a Beautyrest

If you could spend $1,000 for a mattress, it would be no better than a $89.50 Beautyrest by Simmons (unless you added another $10 or a little more to get a Beautyrest Super size).

So why not have the very, very, very best mattress on earth while you're at it?

You spend 1/3 of your life in bed, yet you can't spend more than about $7 or so a year for Beautyrest luxury. (You'll spend $500 to $1,000 a year for a car, including depreciation, yet you may average only an hour a day in your car. You may spend $7 for a single meal at a good restaurant.)

Why are so many people mattress misers? It doesn't make sense.

Give Thanks to Community For Helping Disabled Vets

The director of the recent Armed Forces Day Salute at Kingston Plaza, Mrs. Joan Conway, today lauded the community for its contributions to disabled veterans at Castle Point Veterans Hospital in Beacon. The drive realized $131 in cash donations plus many valuable gifts.

Among the new items presented were: shaving sets, slippers, shirts, ties, transistor radios, hankies, food, snacks and soft drinks. Hundreds of hard and soft bound books were dropped off at Radio Station WGHQ and Kingston Plaza during the week of May 15, along with over 100 picture puzzles, games, cards and assorted items.

In a letter to Mrs. Conway from Dr. John K. Deegan, acting hospital director at Castle Point he said, "This hospital is deeply indebted to you and your co-workers for the unusually large number of individual gifts donated on behalf of our hospitalized veterans. The games will be turned over to our Recreation Section of PM&RS, who will find good use for them in their program. The books will be given to our chief librarian. Our dietitian will use the items of food, and the individual comfort items will be distributed to our neediest patients by our director of voluntary services. The cash donations will be deposited in our general fund for the benefit of all patients."

"Please accept our sincere thanks for this most thoughtful contribution and express our gratitude to everyone whose efforts, in any way, made this gift possible," Dr. Deegan concluded.

Mrs. Conway expressed her delight over the "wonderful response" toward the appeal for funds and gifts to the hospital, inasmuch as the appeal followed so closely the Vietnam appeal a week prior. She said she particularly wished to thank Harry M. Thayer, president of WGHQ and the staff for all the publicity they gave to the Salute and for accepting the many car-loads of gifts that came into the station during the week. She also cited Thompson for being at the Plaza the afternoon of Armed Forces Day to make five minute taped messages from anyone who wished to send a tape to someone overseas; and to WKNY and WBAA.

Cite Press, Radio
"No one can go it alone," said Mrs. Conway, without the fine coverage of radio and the wonderful response of help and cooperation of Richard L. Tress, vice-president and general manager of The Kingston Daily Freeman and Irwin J. Thomas, city editor, could this appeal for funds and gifts for the patients at the hospital have been so successful. Also the coverage of the ceremonies on May 20 by both radio station WGHQ and The Freeman was indeed commendable.

"Without the splendid help, cooperation and changing of military orders the Salute could never have been held. I am indebted to General Amerlin O'Hara, chief of staff to the Governor, Vice Chief of Staff General John Baker and Congressman Joseph V. Resnick and his staff."

"Also, I would like to 'Salute' all those men and women who participated in the Armed Forces Day tribute: Lt. Col. Frank Fabio of the 1st Battalion, 156 Artillery and his men; service organizations such as the Civil Air Patrol, Red Cross, VFW, American Legion and the four branches of the United States Recruiting Stations, among others. I also 'salute' those citizens of our community who gave so generously of their money and gifts for the patients at the hospital."

"Castle Point Hospital is making preparations to admit 30 American paraplegics in July, some from the war in Vietnam. This small token of funds and gifts for these patients, as well as those who have come to the hospital before them, we sincerely hope, will prove that—a great many of the people of Kingston, New York—have not forgotten them—we do care about them—and may God Bless each and every one of these men who have given us—here at home—so very, very much" Mrs. Conway concluded.

HOT PACKS AS EFFECTIVE AS FACIAL SAUNA UNIT

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What do you think of using a facial sauna unit for acne? What is the best treatment for these blemishes?

A—A sauna unit brings moist heat to the skin. The same result can be obtained with hot packs. Moist heat by itself will not cure acne. You should cut your intake of salt. Iodized salt should be strictly avoided. Recent reports indicate that small doses of tetracycline or erythromycin help many persons with acne. Other doctors have found benzoyl peroxide alone or in combination with other drugs helpful.

Q—I am a woman, 55, and in good health. I have suddenly developed sore spots on my scalp that come and go. What causes them and what can I do for them?

A—This may be acne necrotica—no connection with the acne so common in teenagers. Try rubbing a 10 per cent white ammoniated mercury ointment in your scalp at night two or three times a week and wash it out in the morning.

Q—What sort of help can be given a person with a moderately severe paranoid personality?

A—A paranoid is unduly suspicious and distrustful. As his disease progresses, he develops an elaborate, system of delusions or persecution. Such persons, if not committed to a mental institution, may go berserk. In any event, expert psychiatric treatment is essential.

Q—Is the removal of the thyroid gland a dangerous operation? How long would one need to recuperate in the hospital? If I were in the early stage of pregnancy, would the operation harm the unborn child?

A—There is some danger associated with any operation but with modern surgical technique the danger has been greatly reduced. The modern trend is to get the patient up on the day following operation and, after another day or two in the hospital, let him recuperate at home. Far from harming the unborn child the operation, if needed to correct an overactive thyroid, would improve the chances for a healthy baby.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Seek Boat Thief
A 14-foot aluminum boat has been reported stolen from the Ashokan Reservoir. O. Block of 91 Old Witch Tree Road, Woodstock, reported to the sheriff's department that his Sea King boat was taken between May 14 and June 11. The boat is olive drab in color. An investigation is under way.

Javits Warns Graduates On World Police Powers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott says the present generation of college graduates is "still not active enough" in community affairs although it "does protest loud and often enough on many subjects."

The Pennsylvania Republican offered that assessment to 367 graduates of Union College, one of several college graduations in the state Sunday.

The final major commencement in the state will be at Cornell University today.

Scott said "protest is not necessarily effective in itself. Despite the noise and nuisance, protest is ordinarily a passive and defensive action."

"Help make the decisions, help determine the course of events," he said, through "pursuing your goals through active participation in society, in your communities, in civic affairs, in politics."

U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits warned graduates of the State University at Albany that the United States should not try to be "the policeman of the world."

The New York Republican suggested continuance of the United Nations and development of regional organizations to handle problems common to given areas.

If such organizations were established, Javits said, "we may have more success in curbing our present tendency to be jolted by every crisis involving any set of nations anywhere in the world."

So M. Linowitz, U.S. Ambassador to the Organization of American States, urged the graduating class at City College of New York to "protest against having two thirds of humanity lead lives that are nasty, brutish and short."

Linowitz called on society to "utilize the tools, the procedures and the resources we possess to abolish poverty and injustice in all their forms."

The nation's schools are turning out a "veritable army of educated unemployed," John P. Lomenzo, New York secretary of state, told Auburn Community College graduates.

"One of the most serious problems today," Lomenzo said "is the thousands of young people who come out of high schools with no hands—boys and girls who have not absorbed enough...to enable them to make a living."

Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith, professor of economics at Harvard University, said in a commencement speech at Hobart and William Smith Smith Colleges that the current mid-East crisis is an example of what he termed a mistake in selling arms to underdeveloped nations.

At Alfred University, Dr. Alvin M. Weinberg, director of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., National Laboratory, said that the U.S. should undertake scientific projects—such as desalination of sea water and desert irrigation—to foster growth.

The president emeritus of the Association of American Colleges, Dr. Theodore Distler, urged a much larger measure of federal and state support for

Picnic Fete Held By Olive Baptists

The Olive-Shokan Baptist Church, West Shokan, held its annual Sunday school picnic last Saturday at the Town of Olive Park.

The program began at 1:30 p. m. with games and recreation. Mrs. Grace North, Mrs. Alma Ronk and Francis Every directed the activity.

The picnic was planned by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Francis Every and Miss Sherry Every.

The day was concluded by a period of gospel singing and a brief devotion under the direction of Francis Every, chairman of deacons.

There were about 65 guests and friends present.

Tree Limb Falls

The quiet of a sultry summer night was broken by the crash of tree limbs falling on the corner of Spring and Ravine Streets Sunday at 6:45 p. m. Residents of the area ran to the scene to find large parts of an old dead tree lying in the road. Power lines were cut but no reports of interruption of service were reported. City Police were notified and the Department of Public Works soon had the debris cleared. The tree presents quite a danger but residents have said that their complaints to city officials have gone largely ignored. Sunday's mishap occurred at a time when there was almost no breeze in the city.

Honor Outgoing President At County Cancer Meeting

George Svirsky, outgoing president of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, was given a standing ovation at Thursday's meeting of the society at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

Svirsky was cited for his long and faithful service to the society during his term of office. A token from the board of directors was presented by Ross K. Osterhout.

Officers elected to serve for the coming year are: Dr. Harri H. Janssen, president; Dr. Mil-

Will Give Ideas On Proposal for Judge Selection

BY GERRY McLAUGHLIN

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—One of the state's foremost jurists was reported ready today to propose what were termed "radical changes" in the existing system of selecting judges.

Delegate Bernard Botin, presiding Justice of the State Supreme Court's Appellate Division, First Department, notified the State Constitutional convention he would offer a proposal dealing with the selection of judges.

Botin declined to discuss his ideas, saying he would make them public at the convention. His proposal was described, however, by an informed source as containing "radical changes" in the method of choosing judges. Most judges now are elected.

In recent weeks, the convention has heard such groups as the New York City Bar Association and the League of Women Voters press for revision of the Constitution to provide for appointment—rather than election—of judges on the ground that the existing system puts political pressure on judges.

Botin already has urged abolition of the state's surrogate courts, justices of the peace and the Court of Claims. One knowledgeable judicial authority said he expected that Botin also would seek abolition of the elective system, suggesting that judges be appointed instead.

As the delegates converged on Albany today, one of them prepared to offer a proposal that would sharply restrict reporters in writing accounts of criminal trials.

Delegate Joseph L. Galiber of The Bronx said "today's communications do hinder the judicial process" and proposed to restrict newspapers to publishing:

"...Only the identification and charges lodged against a person accused of a crime, and (they) may not publish other information concerning with the evidence, investigation or trial testimony or trial evidence of such a trial until the ultimate disposition of said charge."

Galiber's proposal was contained in a proposed Bill of Rights for the constitution.

"The news media has been relentless," said Galiber, assistant minority leader, "in feeding public curiosity with premature trial information with the result that too many trials are prejudiced by TV, radio and press disclosures."

Delegates learned over the weekend that Gov. Rockefeller will appear before a convention committee looking into the operations of the Executive branch of state government.

The governor will testify in person June 21 before the Committee on the Executive Branch.

Wallet Is Missing

Theft of a wallet containing $54.75 and valuable papers was reported Sunday to the Ulster County Sheriff's Department. Mrs. C. W. Messenger of Hurley reported her wallet missing Saturday night while attending a bowling dinner at Ohlers Mountain Lodge. Ulster County Investigator Harold T. Bowers is conducting an investigation.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

What player in organized baseball hit the most home runs in one season? Not Roger Maris, with 61 in an 182-game season in 1961. Not Babe Ruth, with 60 in a 154-game season in 1927. The all-time record holder, according to The World Almanac, is Joe Bauman, who hit 72 round-trippers in the 1954 in 138 games in the Longhorn league. Nine other minor league players also have reached or exceeded the magic number of 60 homers in a season.

ton M. Grover, and Mrs. William McGrath, vice presidents; Mrs. Francis Koenig, secretary; Frederick P. Carpenter, treasurer and James J. Rua, crusade treasurer.

Elected to serve the board of directors for a two year term were: Dr. Norman N. Burg, Dr. Herbert Derman, Mrs. Robert Davenport, Mrs. Harold Elliott, Dr. David Gerbary, Sister Gabrielle, Dr. Janssen, Richard M. Kalish, Dr. Martin E. Kantor, Dr. John Olivet, and Miss Rosemary Peligrino. Elected to represent Ulster County at the New York State Division's Representative Assembly are: Dr. Derman, and Mrs. Daniel Fochi, with Mrs. George Bushnell as alternate.

The reports of the standing committees were read. Mrs. Carl Dedy, public education chairman, reported that 170 films were shown during the past nine months to an audience of 24,942 viewers. This included showings in schools, clubs and organizations and in theaters. Approximately 172,000 pieces of literature had been distributed during this time.

There had been an increase in the anti-smoking and health programs in the elementary schools, and the film Is Smoking Worth It? has been shown to junior and senior high schools throughout the county. The major exhibit has been the booth at the Lions Exposition held in the Kingston Armory for five consecutive days during April, with volunteers manning it, from 7 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

Dr. Kurken V. Kirk, chairman of the service committee, gave his report.

Dr. Janssen, in assuming his new office, expressed his thanks for the vote of confidence, and also commended Svirsky for the fine job he has done.

The Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society has been providing the following services to cancer patients and their families: Information and Counseling to patients and families to help meet the problems related to the disease... offering assistance and guidance through the full use of community resources. Dressings made by volunteers are available in any quantity without charge to any one in need of these items. During the past nine months, 32,990 dressings were distributed to patients, 27 of whom received service for the first time. There are 17 groups participating in the dressings program in Ulster County, the longest-standing of which is the Hurley Community Service Committee. This group has been preparing dressings every Tuesday for the past 13 years. A special thanks for this service to Mrs. Martha Krutzfeldt and her able committee. Many types of sickroom equipment and comfort items are also available from the Society's Loan Closet in the Ulster County Unit's Headquarters, on a loan basis. If no other resource is available, transportation may be arranged for cancer patients to and from the hospital or home and approved facility for diagnosis or treatment. During the past nine months, 52 trips were made by volunteers transporting five patients to the Ulster County Tumor Clinic. This service is largely supported by the B'nai B'rith Women, under the devoted chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Kalish, who has been doing this work for 17 years.

Convention Battle Looms On Free Press, Trial

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The many people in the communications field, but there must be a place in the state's Constitution where the rules of the game are spelled out, and we've got to start somewhere."

Galiber, who represents the 31st District and is assistant majority leader to the Constitutional Convention, accused the news media of being "relentless in feeding public curiosity with premature trial information with the result leading up to the final product, but I will fight any changes endangering the freedom of the press or nullifying the individual's guarantee to an impartial trial."

Galiber's proposed changes in the Bill of Rights also would permit taxpayers to sue the state and limit the use of electronic devices in gathering evidence.

Galiber said he would be "receptive to any amendments."

Rocky Tabs Urin For Cornell Seat

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller has selected Harold David Urin, an office building operator in New York City, for a seat on the Cornell University Board of Trustees.

Rockefeller's office said Sunday the governor would appoint Urin to the board for a five-year term if the term of Harold L. Bache, also of New York City, expires June 30. The post is unsalaried.

Uris, a graduate of Cornell, founded the Uris Buildings Corp., which provides office buildings for several of the nation's largest firms.

Vassar Alumnae Match Ford Challenge Grant

Vassar College alumnae scored a national triumph by being the first college whose graduates have ever successfully matched a Ford Foundation challenge grant all by themselves.

Announcement was made Sunday by Mrs. Clifford D. Couch Jr. of Scarsdale, alumnae fund director at the annual meeting of the Associate Alumnae of Vassar College. She said the Ford Foundation challenge grant of $2,500,000 had been matched by nearly eight million dollars in alumnae gifts alone over a three-year period of eligibility.

In 1964 the Ford Foundation promised the college a grant of $2,500,000 on condition that Vassar itself raise three times that amount, or $7,500,000, by June 30, 1967. By August 1966, Vassar College itself had more than met the requirement by a combination of gifts from all sources, including parents and other friends of the college, foundations, and corporations as well as alumnae. But Vassar's alumnae, who number over 21,000, had assigned themselves the unique task of reaching the Ford goal by themselves and proceeded to pursue their own objective. No other alumni group, so far as is known, has ever deliberately set out to match a Ford challenge grant in this way.

At yesterday's meeting, held on the Vassar campus in Poughkeepsie, reunion class after reunion class reported amounts representing significant giving by a high percentage of class members. The climax came when the Class of 1917, returning to the campus for its 50th reunion, announced its gift of over $400,000 with contributions from one hundred per cent of the 165 living graduates of the class. Millbrook Fights

LSD With Education

Approximately 400 Millbrook Central School District students in the seventh through 12 grades, will hear about results of drug addiction this week from authorities.

Presenting a panel discussion at the school at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon will be former addicts now associated with "Encounter," a Greenwich Village organization founded to fight the drug problem among teen-agers and young adults.

The program, presented by the Millbrook Committee for Drug Education, will repeat the program at 7:30 o'clock that night for parents and other adults of the community.

The June 13th public meetings are the first of a series of programs on Drug Education arising out of the recently expressed concern of the community over LSD. Dr. Timothy Leary, the chief exponent of LSD is a resident of Millbrook.

Student Work Permit Changes Announced

Changes in the student employment certification process enacted by the 1966 Legislature have been announced by James E. Tobin, assistant to the Superintendent for Pupil Personnel Services, in the Kingston School District Consolidated. The new procedure will become effective in the Kingston City School System at the Pupil Personnel Office as of Thursday, June 15.

Three Coupons

A major change provides that the employment certificates are good not only for the first employment but for subsequent employments. In order to carry out this provision all certificates will carry three coupons. The first employer must complete the lower coupon (No. 1), mail it to the certifying officer and place the certificate on file for the duration of a minor's employment.

When the employment is terminated, the employer must enter the termination date on the certificate and return it to the minor. The minor is then free to go to a second employer and engage in the type of work permitted by the certificate. Each new employer must complete and return one of the attached coupons and file the certificate at the place of employment.

When all the coupons attached to a certificate have been used, the minor, wishing to change jobs again, must return to the certifying officer with the remaining part of the certificate and request a new certificate with additional coupons. This may be issued without requiring a new physical examination, pledge of employment, or parent's signature provided the same type of certificate is issued to the minor. A new application must be completed if the minor applies for another type of certificate.

Employment certificates will now be good for more than one employment and the need for re-issued certificates will be greatly reduced. Elimination of some paper work involved in the certification process will result in saving time by school officials concerned and also make it easier for minors to avail themselves of employment opportunities as they become available.

New certificates to be known as the Student Non-Factory Employment Certificate, Student General Employment Certificate, and Full Time Employment Certificate will replace the former Vacation Work Permit, Standard Employment Certificate (part time) and Standard Employment Certificate (full time).

One Application

Tobin noted that the procedure for making application for one of the new certificates will be similar to the procedure used in the past. Only one application form will be used in applying for any one of the new certificates. The procedures outlined on the form are self-explanatory.

The Student Non-Factory Certificate should be issued to minors 14 and 15. It is not valid for factory employment and it expires when the minor reaches the age of 16. At that time a new physical fitness certificate is required if the minor continues in his employment, if more than six months have elapsed since his original physical examination for employment.

If the minor continues work, the certificate may then be extended or a Student General Employment Certificate issued to him. The latter certificate replaces the former Standard Certificate (part time). It should be issued to 16 and 17-year-old minors who are attending school. The types of employment for which it is valid include factory and non-factory work.

When a minor holding a Student General Employment Certificate leaves school and applies for a Full Time Employment Certificate, a physical examination is again required if more than six months have elapsed since his previous physical. In addition, the schooling record and the parent's signature are required. A parent must appear in person to sign the application. The pledge of employment is required with each application for a different type of certificate.

The Full-Time Employment Certificate replaces the former Standard Employment Certificate (full time). It should be issued to 16 and 17 year old minors who are not attending school.

Capital Footnotes

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will launch on June 17 the nation's most powerful single rocket motor. It will be 80 feet long and 22 feet in diameter and will be fired from the Aerojet-General Corp., plant near Homestead, Fla.

The Peace Corps will train 5,300 workers this month on 82 college campuses. The Civil Aeronautics Board has issued a report saying Singapore are hurting their own economies by imposing flight because tourists are avoiding those areas.

Electricians Seek New Help

ALBANY—An Ulster County electricians' union is recruiting for apprentices, the State Labor Department said today. Assistant Industrial Commissioner Edward J. Ray, in charge of the Department's operations in the Albany district, which includes Ulster County, said the Joint Apprentices Committee of Electricians Local 645 and employers in the Kingston area is seeking 10 qualified apprentices to be trained in the trade.

Applications may be obtained at the Local 645 office, 131 North Front Street, and must be returned not later than July 15.

According to requirements of the Joint Apprentices Committee, candidates must be between 17 and 24 years of age; have a high school diploma; be able to pass physical and aptitude tests; and must have resided for not less than one year in the area over which the Kingston Joint Apprentices Committee has jurisdiction.

Further information can be obtained at the Department of Labor office, Bureau of Apprentices Training, State Campus, Albany.

Threat to Privacy

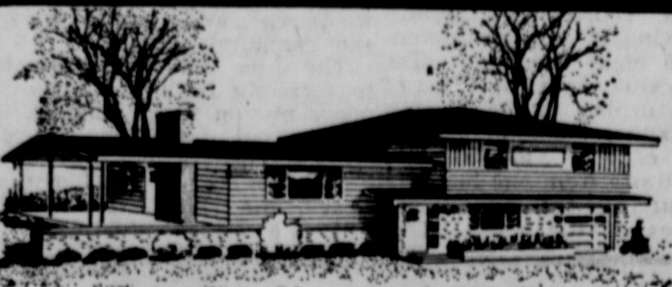

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican group says the Johnson administration's proposal to outlaw public and private wiretapping except in national security cases is "a dangerous threat to individual privacy and an unwelcome limitation on law enforcement officials."

The House Republican task force on crime endorsed instead a bill by Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, to prohibit wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping except by court-authorized police.

The task force chairman, Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., said "it is illogical to claim that electronic bugging equipment is effective for national security cases but ineffective in cases involving serious and organized criminals, which threaten our local, state and federal governments."

The administration bill is under study by a House Judiciary subcommittee.

Fines Are Imposed For 3 City Youths

Three youths charged with malicious mischief at Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus, on Decoration Day were fined $25 each and given a 60-day suspended jail sentence on pleas of guilty. Another who was apprehended Saturday by Ulster County Investigator Harold T. Bowers, entered a plea of innocent and his case was adjourned to June 20 at 7 p. m. before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver of Esopus.

Ronald DuBois, 17, of 92 Shufeldt Street; George Nelson, 18, of 236 West Chestnut Street, and Dominick Aussenio, 17, of 342 Clifton Avenue, entered pleas of guilty. James McGarry, of 277 West Chestnut at Mt. St. Alphonsus.

Dodd Decision On Censure Is Due This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate does not have an official code of ethics by which to judge him. Javits did not, however, say how he would vote.

Long plans to propose after the debate opens Tuesday that the Senate discard the censure resolution altogether and instead ask the ethics committee to draft an ethics code. He disclosed Saturday he has sent to all senators a legal brief concerning the ethics committee's investigation of Dodd doesn't support its resolution.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Sunday Dodd has a legitimate complaint in saying the Street, pleaded innocent and had his case adjourned. The arrests grew out of an entrance to the main building McGarry, of 277 West Chestnut at Mt. St. Alphonsus.

for its efforts in the probe and its attempt "to promote high standards of ethics on the part of members of the Senate."

Javits said it is essential the Senate have a code. "I think Sen. Dodd has a legitimate complaint in that there were no ethical standards for the Senate," he said.

As senators have been asked to be on hand for the debate, which is expected to last two or three days.

The ethics committee accused Dodd, 60, of using for his personal benefit at least $136,083 in funds raised through political means and of collecting travel expenses for seven trips from both the Senate and private organizations.

Dodd has denied any deliberate misuse of funds, adding the committee made a "tragic mistake" in recommending his censure.

Asked if he will vote on the resolution to censure him, Dodd told a newsman: "I don't know. I'd hate to lose by one vote if I didn't."

Regardless of the outcome, he has said, he will run for re-election in 1970. He told the people of Connecticut in a recent telecast: "It is you who will be the real judges of my conduct."

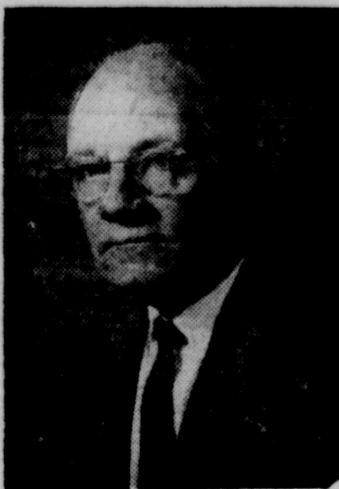

Javits' comments were in a radio-television program Sunday for New York stations and Long's remarks were in an interview Saturday.

BRIGGS GANG CAUGHT! SENTENCED TO SELL!

"Judge" J. Ellis Briggs in special session today ordered the "Briggs Appliance Gang" to sell appliances at tremendous discount prices. The leader of the gang, "Bill Lounsbury," protested that this would be giving the appliances away but "Judge Briggs" declared him out of order and issued an injunction against Lounsbury which orders him to sell twice as much as any of the other members of the gang or face a stiffer sentence.

BETTY CANARY

Month of the Topless Bride?

By BETTY CANARY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The month of June is upon us and I grab the newspaper each morning, breathlessly awaiting the accounts of the latest weddings. Surely this will be the year of the topless bride.

Ann-Margret got the season off to a pretty fair start by wearing a miniskirt for her wedding, and the report was that she cried through the ceremony, but nobody knew why. She should have been engaged in positive thinking. After all, she could have thought about how easy storage of this bridal gown will be. None of that wrapping in blue tissue and sealing it in a cedar chest. She can slip it into an envelope and tuck it into her jewelry case.

I don't know if any ceremonies this June can top the two I heard about last year. There was the one in Detroit performed at the fairgrounds which was supposedly planned by Andy Warhol. Among other ingenious ideas incorporated in the affair was the novel one of having ushers carrying huge replicas of Babe Ruth candy bars and strolling around and around the happy couple while they exchanged vows.

Then there was that delightful wedding in California where a "black priest" united the bride and groom. The cult seems to be a gloomy one because everybody wore black. Anyway, as a sort of centerpiece, there was a reclining nude on the altar. Then, after the ceremony, everyone drank a toast, ran into the next room, dashed into a closet and jumped down through a trapdoor. I never did figure out where the trapdoor led. Into a vat of boiling "toast" maybe.

Anyway, I expect June 1967 will be the time when a groom meets a topless bride at the church. (This is the girl who MEANS it when she says, "Darling, I have nothing to hide.")

Excerpts from the society page writeup will probably include stuff like: "The bride wore a peau de soie Adam and Eve original with her wrist corsage" and "Emma Hatfield sang selections from The Three Bears."

It will go on to say, "After the ceremony the blushing bride was photographed for advertisements soon to appear in magazines across the country with the caption, 'I dreamed I went to my wedding in a Maidenform bra!' after which the happy couple dashed from the church into the arms of the police who escorted them on a honeymoon trip to the local bastille."

"After a short stay here, the couple will return to the workaday world and the new missus will resume her career as wardrobe mistress to the topless cello player who was arrested recently in New York City."

Educators Cannot Police Students

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am worrying needlessly, but I can't help it. Our daughter will be a freshman this fall in a co-ed university halfway across the continent. It's considered a fine school, but I understand there is practically no supervision. I mean, they stay in dormitories, and there is a dean of women to talk to, but their hours are very liberal. They can "sign out" for weekends, and with so many freshman girls, ours will get no special looking after.

We've never had any trouble with our daughter, but with all we hear about pre-marital sex in colleges, we are concerned.

Shouldn't the colleges try to control the freshman girls a little more strictly? After all, it is the first time many of them have ever been away from home.

WORRIED MOM

DEAR MOM: By the time a girl goes away to college, her moral code is well established, and what she didn't get at home and in church she will not get from the dean of women. It's time parents realized that even more important to college students than "supervision" is a good, sound moral grounding during their impressionable years at home.

Educators cannot be expected to police the morals of college students much beyond the general injunctions that apply to society as a whole.

DEAR ABBY: Am I dreaming, or didn't I learn somewhere that if one wore a pink or red carnation on Mother's Day it meant his mother was still living. But if he wore a white carnation it meant his mother was dead?

I mentioned this to someone last Mother's Day and he looked at me like I was some kind of nut. Please confirm or deny.

DEAR NUT: You're not a nut. I've always been under the same impression, but I was told that practice went out with the fox trot.

DEAR ABBY: I am a bachelor, living with my widowed mother. I am her sole support.

As a member of a music group, I am scheduled to entertain at home occasionally with classical recordings. Mother loves to talk, and she holds a steady conversation while the music plays. Obviously I cannot tell her to go to the movies, or to leave the room. She prepares a lovely repast after the session.

I think more of my mother than my musician friends, so do you think that under the circumstances it would be better if I were to discontinue my association with the music group?

My mother is very sensitive to criticism.

MUSIC LOVER

DEAR LOVER: Gently ask your mother to please hold her conversation until after the music session. Repeat if necessary.

DEAR ABBY: I nearly flipped when I read that letter from the bride who wanted her own brother to be best man at her wedding instead of her fiancé's brother, because her brother was tall and handsome, and his brother was short and not very good looking.

Why doesn't she marry someone who has a tall brother? She says as long as her parents are paying for the wedding she should be able to pick the people for the wedding party. I think I know her problem. Her parents are not only paying for the wedding, but for the man, too. Please print this. The poor groom might see it and wake up in time to be saved a lifetime of despair.

NEARLY FLIPPED IN LAGUNA
DEAR ABBY: In our town, when you are invited to a party, I am told the hostess expects to be called a day or so later to be thanked.

It seems to me that a sincere "thank you" on departure from the party is sufficient evidence of appreciation.

And if it was a large party, the hostess will have plenty of cleaning up to do on the following day, so why should she be annoyed answering a dozen or more phone calls to accept repeated thanks? What is correct?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: When a hostess has gone to considerable effort to entertain, the gracious guest will send a written note repeating his thanks. (It's not necessary, but it's nice.)

There is always a chance that a phone call may be an intrusion, but I think the hostess who would resent being "annoyed" with repeated thanks is in the minority.

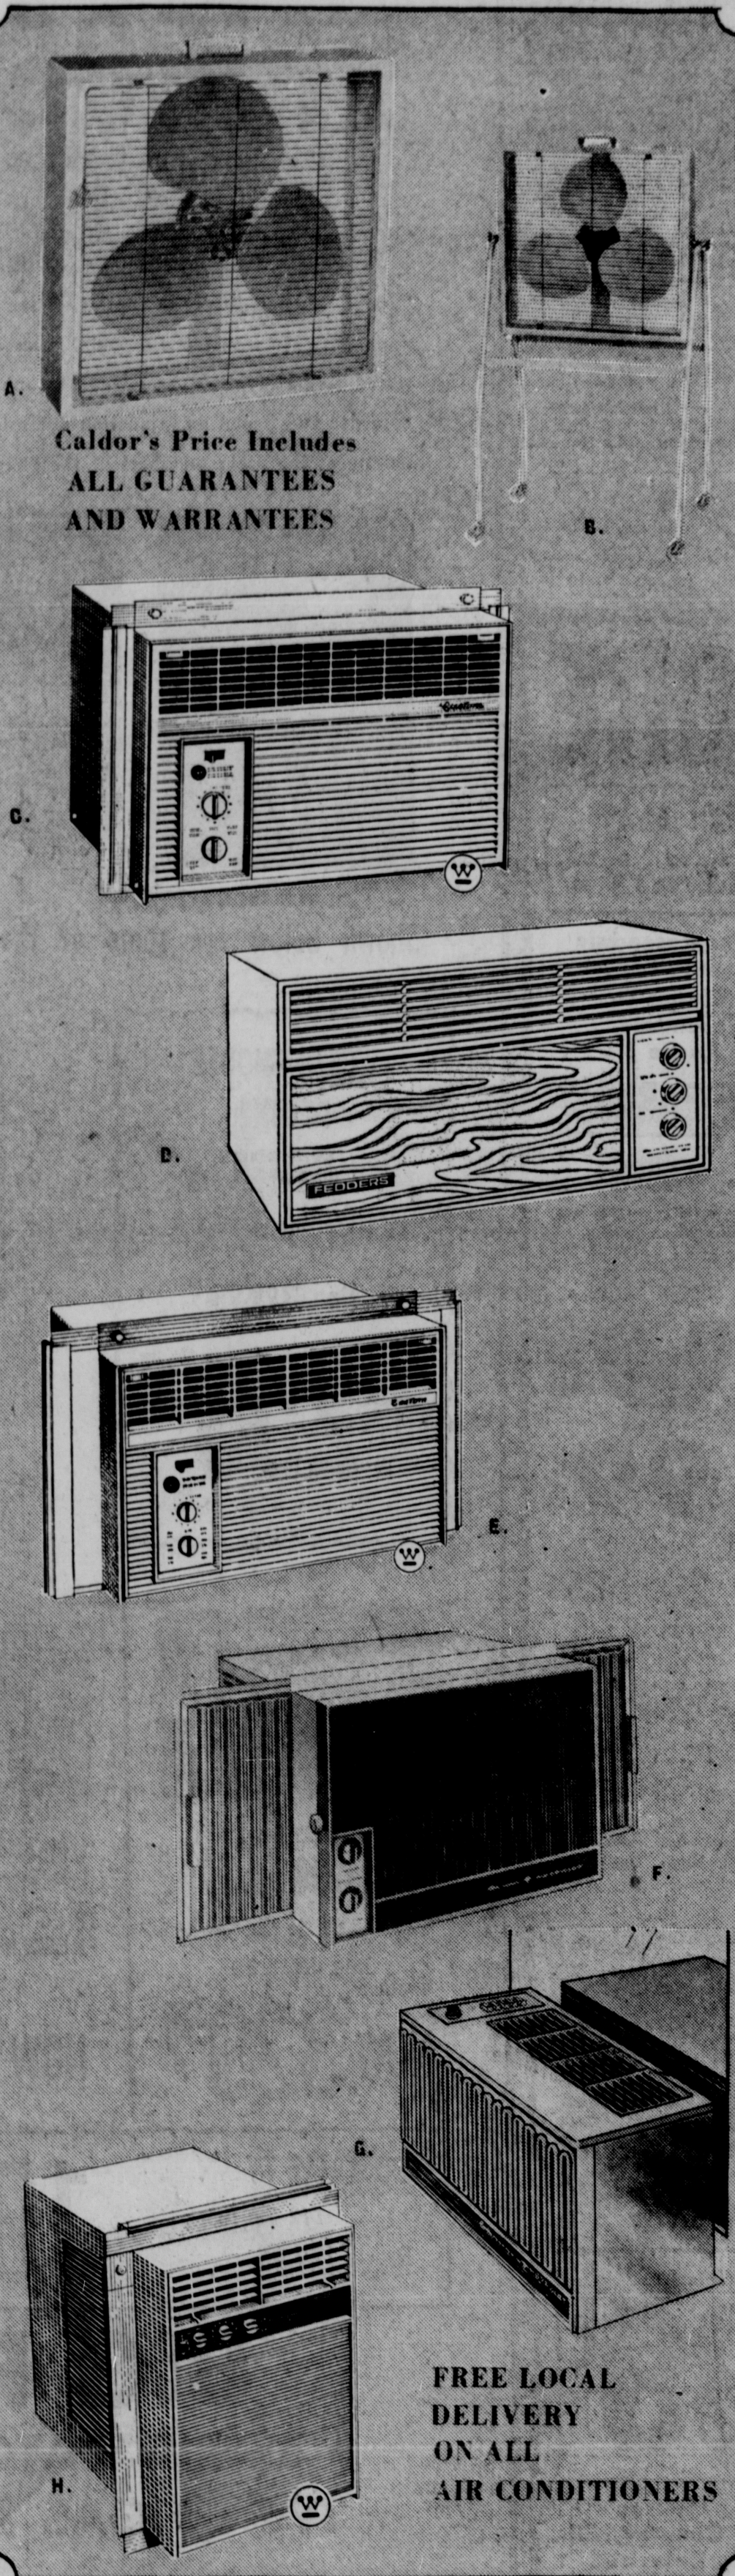

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Expect Rocky's Plea for Broad Executive Power

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller is expected to make a plea for broad executive powers when he testifies June 21 at a public hearing of the Constitutional Convention's Committee on the Executive Branch.

The Republican governor's appearance before the committee will be his first direct participation in the activities of the group gathered to consider changes in the state's basic document.

Aides to Rockefeller said the invitation to testify was tendered by the committee's chairman, Presiding Justice Bernard Botwin of State Supreme Court's Appellate Division, First Department.

Rockefeller agreed, they said, because the governor regards the convention as a unique body and he desires to demonstrate a willingness to cooperate in its work.

Montreal-Bound

ULSTER, PA. (AP) — Russell F. Chaffee, a Sayre, Pa., math teacher with a liking for long-distance swims, has set Montreal as his next destination.

The 40-year-old Chaffee completed a 50-mile wamup of sorts Sunday, stepping ashore here after swimming the length of the Chemung River from Painted Post, N. Y., in seven minutes under 24 hours.

Chaffee, who had planned to make the trip in half that time, said he was slowed by frequent shallow spots along the way and a sluggish, half-mile-an-hour current. At one point, he said, he was forced to turn and roll to avoid scraping himself on jagged rocks.

Jehovah's Witnesses were organized in the United States in 1862, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Teener Is Held, Believed AWOL

A Kingston teenager, believed to be absent without leave from the Army, was arrested Saturday morning, charged with possession of deadly weapons. The youth reportedly was armed with a .44 caliber German pistol and a .38 caliber police special hand gun. Both weapons were unloaded.

Daniel Van Leuven, 18, of RD 5, Box 392, Kingston was arrested on Rt. 9W in the Town of Esopus by Bureau of Criminal Investigator William E. Wiedemann, Kingston Police Sergeant Charles McCullough and Kingston Detectives Floyd Krom and John Crescino at 10:40 a.m. Saturday.

Van Leuven was arraigned before Esopus Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver, waived preliminary examination and is now awaiting grand jury action in the Ulster County Jail. The youth was reportedly stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C., but it could not be ascertained whether he was being sought for desertion or for being AWOL. The Air Police at Stewart Air Force Base, the nearest military authorities, were contacted but said as of 10 a.m. today no arrest order from Fort Bragg had been issued on Van Leuven.

Lockport Man Is Dead of Wounds

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — A man who, investigators say, was shot May 31 as he was about to enter Lockport police headquarters to give a statement, died Saturday.

Henry Kiner, 28, of Lockport, succumbed at Sisters Hospital in Buffalo. He had been in critical condition with wounds of the head and hip. Moments after the shooting, police arrested Nathaniel Bolden, 39, of Lockport, on a charge of first-degree assault. He was jailed without bail to await action by a Niagara County grand jury.

Resnick Bill Would Improve Child Centers

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick last week introduced a bill to provide for the improvement of educational and cultural services in child Day Care Centers.

The measure would set aside $300,000,000 to supplement preschool educational programs for children from 3-5 years of age.

Congressman Resnick said, "This Bill will help provide educational services for public and private Day Care Centers so that mothers may be secure in the knowledge that their children are not penalizing their children by going out to work."

Mr. Resnick also noted, "The Centers would be of special importance for families of income above the $3,000 poverty line whose children do not qualify for the Head Start Program." He explained that "Day Care Centers are extremely important because the number of working mothers has increased six-fold since 1940. Further, the Labor Department has projected an increase of 55 per cent by 1970 in the number of mothers who will be working."

"In the light of the large growing number of working mothers and the need to improve the education of children in Day Care Centers, I feel that Congress should pass this Bill in the present session," Congressman Resnick concluded.

Reading Programs At Lions Library

Mrs. Babie Markle, librarian of the Kingston Lions Children's Library, has announced an exciting summer reading program which will extend from June 26 through Aug. 19. Any child presently in grades 3, 4, 5 and 6 may register beginning Monday, June 12 and any time thereafter until June 30. This summer Reading Club is geared for reading fun and understanding and is not a contest as in previous years. Each youngster will be reading a total of eight books during the summer. These books may be any that he chooses as long as they are on his grade level. However, one book must be a bibliography, another a book of non-fiction, and one a fiction book. The other five may be in any classification which the child chooses. At the conclusion of the summer, each member of the Summer Reading Club who has read the required number of books will be presented with a certificate.

The Children's Library has recently received over 200 new books. So there are selections for children of all ages and for children with a wide range of interests. Reading of far-off places, of the lives of outstanding men and women, and of exciting adventure and drama is a wonderful way to enjoy a summer day. It also helps to further the reading progress gained in school during the year. All eligible children are urged to enroll in the Summer Reading Club.

The Kingston Lions Children's Library is open from 1-5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Buffalo Plant Is Damaged by Blaze

ARCADE, N.Y. (AP) Fire caused an estimated $250,000 damage today to the one-story Duverre Plastics Co. factory in this village southeast of Buffalo.

One person suffered minor injuries, a fire department official said.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. The factory, a steel structure, employs 70 persons and produces plastic pipe and storage tanks. Duverre is a division of the Amercoat Corp., Buffalo.

Firemen brought the fire under control in two hours.

Albert May, chief accountant for Amercoat, estimated the damage.

The factory is on E. Park St.

Job Corps Seeking Applicants 16-21

"To 15 young Ulster County men aged 16-21 who left school before graduating, Job Corps, one of the key programs of the Office of Economic Opportunity, says emphatically that all is not lost," the Ulster County Community Action Committee Inc. announced today as part of its continuing Job Corps recruitment campaign.

Study after study shows that education plays an important and sometimes decisive role in the success of the young men and women who enter the labor force each year. For the out-of-school youth who has missed out on education Job Corps is prepared to fill the gap. At Job Corps Centers throughout the country young people get the training that improves their chances of finding a decent job. There are well-qualified teachers at the Centers and the Corpsmen are guided into programs that are suited to their abilities and interests. They get a chance to learn to speak, read and write better, and to develop useful skills and work habits needed to get and hold good jobs. While at the Center they receive money in the form of stipends or allowances.

Unique Opportunity
The young people in the Job Corps are provided a unique opportunity to obtain remedial and supplementary education, to work, study and develop skills under professional instructors in order to prepare themselves for success on the job and a productive future.

In a recently published study conducted from February 1963 to February 1965 by the U. S. Department of Labor, comparisons were drawn between two groups of young people. The work progress of young people with less schooling was not as great as that of their contemporaries who finished high school or had some college. This lag occurred even in a period of expanding employment. Whatever measure was used — unemployment rate, earnings, steadiness of employment and so on — the young men and women with more education made greater advances than those who left school before graduation.

A very clear picture emerged from the study of the dollars-and-cents value of education and skills training.

Dropouts reported lower than the graduates. Half of the weekly earnings on the job at graduates but only three-tenths of the dropouts had weekly earnings of $100 or more. The proportion of dropouts earning less than $60 a week was three times as large as the proportion of graduates.

Big Difference
The graduates' average earnings of nearly $4000 were about 50 per cent greater than the $2600 for dropouts.

Two-thirds of the graduates but fewer than half of the dropouts who worked in 1964 were employed all year. Thirty-seven percent of the dropouts with year-round jobs earned less than $3000 in 1964, double the percentage for graduates.

One of 20 of the dropouts and 1 of 5 of the graduates had returned to school between February 1963 and February 1965.

One-fifth of the men had taken formal job training since leaving school in February 1963 or were still taking it. Job Corps is not limited to young men. Young women between the ages of 16 and 21 who have dropped out of school and are out of work are eligible to enroll in Job Corps.

WICS (Women in Community Service) screens young women for Job Corps and has been able to place several thousand applicants in urban centers especially designed for them where they can receive training in such skills as Child Care, Key Punch, Practical Nursing, Retail Sales, Secretarial skills, Data Processing and many others. A new unit of WICS has been set up for Ulster County.

Anyone in the 16 to 21 age bracket may find out more about and apply for Job Corps by contacting the office of the Ulster County Community Action Committee, Inc., in Kingston, or at its neighborhood centers in Saugerties, Ellenville, Phoenicia, and Highland.

Memorable Date

Sept. 17, 1862, is a memorable date, being the bloodiest single day of the Civil War. More men were killed and wounded—23,110—at Antietam that day than on any other day of the war.

Open House Set By State Police At 16 Stations

Observance of the 50th anniversary year of the New York State Police will include open house programs at 16 stations designed to give the public a better insight into operations of the department.

Supt. Arthur Cornelius Jr., today released dates and location of the events, the first of which will be on Sunday, June 18 at Troop B headquarters in Oneida.

Visitors will have an opportunity to talk with personnel and examine exhibits and equipment, including scuba diving gear, patrol cars, radar instruments, weapons and other items. They will also have a chance to go through the new mobile command-communications vehicle which will be used as a field command post at the scene of emergencies.

The schedule for the open houses follows: Oneida June 18, Malone June 24, Liverpool June 25, Plattsburgh July 8, Wellsville July 22, Fredonia July 29, Wrights Corners Aug. 5, Horseheads Aug. 12, Sidney Aug. 13, Ferndale Aug. 19, Watertown Aug. 26, Saranac Lake Sept. 9, Loudonville Sept. 16, Peekskill Sept. 23 and Newburgh Sept. 24.

A date will be sent later for an open house at the new Troop E headquarters near Canandaigua which will be activated this summer.

The Joiners

Rondout Commandery 52, Knights Templar, will hold its regular stated meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., in the Masonic Temple 31 Albany Avenue and as this will be the last meeting before the summer vacation period, a large attendance is requested. Refreshments will be served by the ladies in the dining room.

Full Dress 'Ball'

Calling a full dress dance a "ball" stems from the early practice in Naples of holding a ball game before the dance of the "Feast of Fools." The full dress for men was the odd custom used during the ball game.

Seek Information On Men in Viet

Complete information about 26 area men serving in Vietnam to assure delivery of packages of gifts from the Ulster County Vietnam Servicemen's Committee is sought by the committee, according to Edward H. Engelhardt, chairman.

Information about the 26 men is the correct address, home address and telephone number of each of the men, and the approximate date they expect to leave Vietnam. This information should be phoned or mailed as soon as possible to Chairman Engelhardt, 610 Otis Street, Kingston.

The 26 servicemen are: PFC Allan H. Bard, PFC Louis Blass Jr., A/2C William J. Craft Jr., PFC Thomas M. Dixon, L/CPL Owen Dunn, PFC Stephen H. Erceg, Sgt. Charles E. Fischer, SS Craig Foster, Raymond Girard, SP/4 Charles A. Gregg, SP/4 Honn H. Hall, SP/4 Hon M. Hammond, SP/4 John Kelly, PFC Robert F. Krajewski, PFC Jack R. Lewis, CPL Nussallah, S/Sgt. Merritt E. Olsen, T/Sgt. Robert H. Overgaugh, Tom Platon, PFC Gary Quick, SP/4 John E. Reccor, PFC Terry T. Reissler, L/CPL John J. Thompson, Jr., SFC Harold Van Leuven, Richard Villa and PFC Julius H. Wells.

Engelhardt said that of the 200 area servicemen in Vietnam, information about 167 of them has been verified as complete, four men are now home, 3 are non-residents of Ulster county, and 26 have not been completed.

The committee chairman noted that the information is so good that the committee will know when to stop sending packages to individuals and when to stop subscriptions to the Kingston Daily Freeman; how many cartons of cigarettes to send to each serviceman and in order to notify relatives at home when packages are sent to Vietnam.

The next packaging of gifts will take place at 7 p. m. Wednesday, June 14, and the shipping is scheduled for June 15. Packaging will take place at Glenrie Firehouse and Ulster Hose Co. 5.

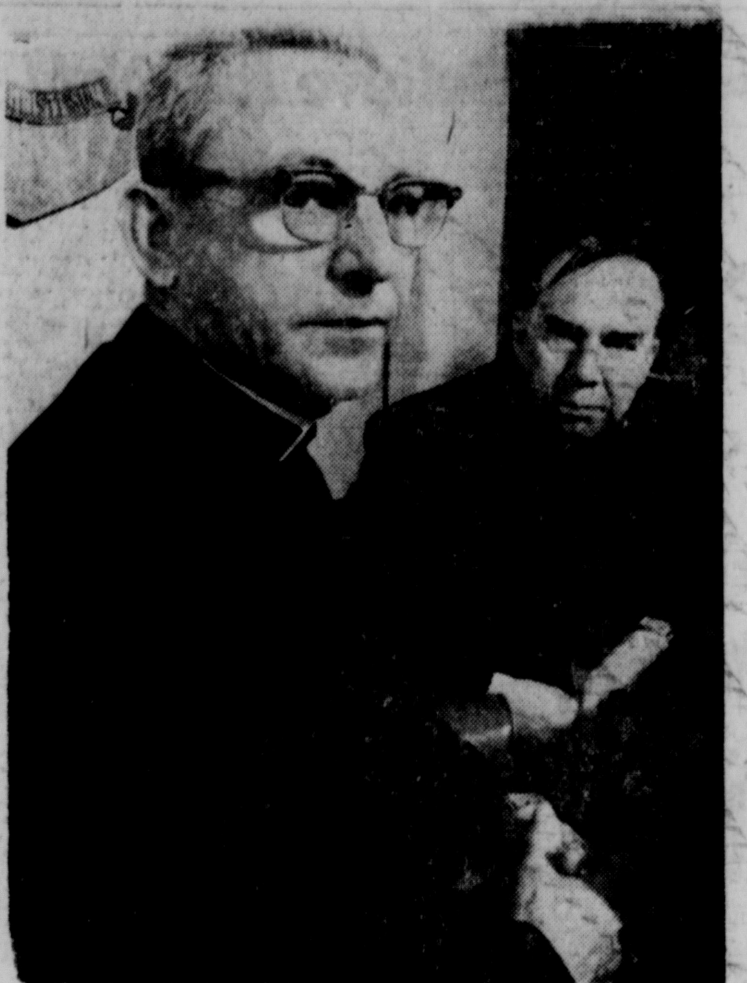

Engelhardt said that each county serviceman will receive in packages the following items: razors, cigaret lighters, razor blades, jack knives, can openers, shoe kits, combs, shaving cream, wash cloths, towels, playing cards, baggies, plastic soap cases, flashlights, batteries, pears, peaches, fruit cocktail, orange drink, sausage, insect repellent, instant coffee, crackers, cigarets (five packs a month), film and writing paper.

Taft Would Accept

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thelma Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio who made three unsuccessful bids for the Republican presidential nomination, was willing to run for vice president with Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952, said Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.

Murphy said Sunday he was in Eisenhower's convention headquarters in 1952 when word came that Taft would accept second place on the ticket. This was after Eisenhower had beaten Taft for the presidential nomination in a bitter convention battle.

"As it turned out, Gen. Eisenhower had already offered the proposition to Dick Nixon," Murphy said.

ST. LOUIS ARCHDIOCESE ADMINISTRATOR—Auxiliary Bishop George J. Gottwald, (left) was named administrator of the St. Louis archdiocese. He will serve as the head of the archdiocese until Pope Paul VI appoints a successor to Joseph Cardinal Ritter who died Saturday at age 74. At right is the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Drumm, Chancellor of the archdiocese. Bishop Gottwald said the policies of Cardinal Ritter would be maintained while he is administrator. (AP Wirephoto)

Oswald: "In the good old days a cue bid was a cue bid. It showed first round control and invited a slam. Today we have every sort of cue bid imaginable. In fact, some of our most modern experts use a cue bid as a way to keep out of trouble with a bad hand."

Jim: "It is confusing, but if you bear in mind that a cue bid is always a one-round force you can make it work to great advantage provided you and your partner know what you are doing."

Oswald: "North has 14 high card points and a balanced hand. South has 12 high card points and two five-card suits. When this hand was played in a Jackson, Miss., tournament several years back, Bernard Tighe of Jackson and John Tolledano of New Orleans were one of the few pairs to reach the cinch six-club contract. The key bid was John's three-spade cue bid."

Jim: "Bernard knew that John could not have a real spade suit. If he had he would have bid a spade over the heart response. He could not be sure if John was just showing a double spade stopper or the spade ace so he merely rebid to three notrump."

Oswald: "When John continued to four clubs Bernard knew exactly what was in John's mind. John had limited his hand by the one no-trump rebid. His later bids of three spades and four clubs had shown the ace of spades and a hand that was very good for clubs. That was enough for Bernard. He bid the club slam."

Jim: "Strangely enough the club slam was safer than three no-trump. All Bernard had to do was to ruff one heart. Four no-trump would make as the cards lie but if East had held the ace of clubs as well as his five of spades, a spade lead would have beaten three no-trump."

Priests Get Assignments, Changes Here

Changes in assignment of several area priests have been announced by the Archdiocese of New York.

The Rev. Nicholas M. Mounic, assistant pastor at St. Mary's Church, this city, has been assigned to St. Peter's Church, Liberty. He will be replaced by the Rev. John J. Farley of the Church of Our Lady of Fatima, Scarsdale.

The Rev. James J. LeBar, assistant at St. Catherine Labourer Church, Lake Katrine, is going to the Church of St. Gregory Barbarigo, Garmerville. Named to his post is the Rev. William J. Amiralet of the Church of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs, Manhattan.

Newly ordained, the Rev. Joseph P. Penna has been assigned for the summer at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Clove.

The Rev. Edmund W. Netter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund R. Netter of 106 Hone Street, has been assigned to the Church of St. Anthony, Nanuet. He previously served at St. Gregory Barbarigo, Garmerville.

Appointments will become effective June 17.

KHS Senior Wins Kiwanis Music Award

Miss Cheryl Thomas, a member of this year's graduating class at Kingston High School, has been accepted for admission to the State University College at Fredonia.

Miss Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin J. Thomas, Sunset Park, will pursue a music education course with a major in voice.

She has been a member of the KHS choir and during her junior and senior years has been one of the featured soloists in the annual choir concerts under the direction of Leonard Stine, director.

The KHS senior received one of the many awards presented during a special assembly at the school last Thursday, being awarded the Kingston Kiwanis Club award of $100, given to a student to help continue her musical education.

She is also a member of the senior choir of First Baptist Church and has served the church as substitute organist.

CHERYL THOMAS

Miss Thomas will begin the fall term at Fredonia on Sept. 12.

Political Science Course

American Government, a Political Science course, will be offered by Ulster County Community College in Summer Session I running from Tuesday, June 13, to Tuesday, July 18. Registration will be Monday, June 12, at the College, 214 West Chestnut Street, Kingston, from 9 a. m. to noon.

The American Government course will examine the operation of the various levels of government in the United States, both in theory and in practice.

An intensive study will be made of the operation of the various branches of the Federal government, their relationship with one another, and their relation to the American people.

The course also will examine the nature of government on the state and local level in this country, and will study the relationship of state and local government, and with the people.

American Government will meet from 10:01 a. m. to noon Monday through Friday.

For a detailed description of the 1967 Summer Sessions Courses at Ulster County Community College, their credits and meeting times, write or telephone the director of Summer Sessions, 214 West Chestnut Street, Kingston.

Transfer Rate High For UCCC Graduates

Graduates of Ulster County Community College for the last two years have had no difficulty being accepted as transfer students at four-year colleges and universities throughout the nation, Dean of Students Donald Crout said today.

He said that, according to our records, all of the U.C.C.C. graduates who sought to transfer have been accepted by some four-year college or university throughout the nation, and added that more than 83 per cent also cited the advantages of first attending a community college.

These successful results were determined in a follow-up survey of graduates in the first two graduating classes at the college made by the Dean of Students' office.

"The results of this follow-up survey definitely show that Ulster County Community College is playing an important role in higher education," said Dean Crout. "Our graduates have been highly successful in transferring to four-year colleges and universities. Even more important, they reported that our college gave them the necessary preparation for the level of work undertaken at their transfer institutions."

The survey was compiled by Director of Admissions Charles Schenck.

The students transferred to nine units of the State University of New York and many other public and private institutions throughout the country.

The institutions included the State University Colleges at Albany, Buffalo, Binghamton, Stony Brook, Cortland, Geneseo, New Paltz, Oneonta and Plattsburgh, University of Bridgeport, Brooklyn College, Bryant College, University of Colorado, University of Connecticut, Culver-Stockton College, University of Denver, Florida Atlantic University, Keuka College, Kings College, Long Island University, University of Massachusetts, University of Miami, Murray State, New York University, Northern University, Pace College, Pratt Institute, Rider College, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Roberts Wesleyan College, Southern Community State, Syracuse University, Tulane University and Union College.

The majority of the students transferring to other colleges and universities encountered no difficulties in the transferring of credits. The responses indicated that 89 per cent of the Class of 1965 and 97 per cent of the Class of 1966 found their preparation at Ulster County Community College was adequate for the level of work at their transfer institutions.

In addition, 83 per cent of the Class of 1965 and 90 per cent of the Class of 1966 felt there were advantages in first attending Ulster County Community College.

Generally these students felt the community college's advantages were their close relationships with the faculty, ease of a community college gives a student in transition from high school to college life and study habits, and the community college's low cost.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD—A. Raymond Atkins, president of State of New York National Bank, at left, presents a scholarship to George Mahoney Jr., of Leeds, N. Y., who is planning to study for a baccalaureate degree and a career in public accountancy. He was picked from the freshman class at Ulster County Community College for the honors because of an outstanding record in studies and for personal characteristics which forecast a successful future career. Looking on are Mrs. Vincent Connelly and Neil Whitehurst, chairman of the College's Business Department, both judges in the scholarship competition. Gernreich Deals Blow to Lingerie Industry in Show

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—With what he calls veiled nudity, Rudi Gernreich has dealt a blow well below and above the belt to the lingerie industry.

As far as anyone could see—and that was to the hipline—the manikins that closed the fall collection Friday wore nothing at all under their diaphanous dresses with skirts that became opaque only from the hip on.

The Right Thing To Do

By Elizabeth L. Post

A NOSTALGIC LOOK AT "PAYING CALLS"

Several weeks ago I wrote about "The Rise and Fall of the Visiting Card." A gentleman reader who saw it sent me a most delightful letter discussing the art of making calls. His descriptions prompted me to look further into old rules and stories about calls, which I pass on to you in conjunction with his letter.

Dear Mrs. Post: Your column of April 29, "The Rise and Fall of the Visiting Card," attracted my attention because I can well remember how the game was played in the Gay Nineties. Things had to be done just right.

A daughter was kept in the background until she had been given a Coming-Out Party, at about the age of eighteen. After that she was on the market and she rated her own visiting card. Younger daughters followed in order of seniority.

Sometimes, by common consent a particular day, such as Thursday, might be chosen as the proper day of the week for making calls. That day might be noted on the cards. When calling, Mother and one or more daughters would saunter forth, each with her own pack of cards. Each of the ladies would leave one of her own cards for each eligible member of the family they were visiting.

In Emily Post's biography, "Truly Emily Post," one finds a charming description of a New York lady's afternoon, and the manner in which she made her calls.

"At two-thirty the victoria would be waiting before the front door. The afternoon drive, always up Fifth Avenue, was comparable to the Grand Chain in the lancers. Everyone would be out; everyone, that is, who kept horses and a carriage.

"And how elegant the carriages were. How well-bred and well-groomed the horses. How stiff and correct the coachman and footmen in their liveries. How happy and gay the ladies appeared, bowing right and left to their promenaders, seeing and being seen. That was important; to be seen.

"Every day, in the course of the drive, the coachman was instructed to call at such and such addresses. The ladies remained in the carriage while the footmen descended, rang the bell, and left cards. While the season was at its height it might be necessary to make three or four of these stops during the drive. Always the last stop was at a house where a call was made in person.

"Twenty minutes for a call. No less, no more. The coachman drove off and around the block several times to be back at the door one minute before it was opened to emit the caller.

"Then home, down the Avenue at a smart pace in the gathering twilight. In one's own house the lamps would be lighted and the open fires laid ready to be lit the moment the mistress returned. On the silver tray in the hall would be cards left by callers during the afternoon. There was nothing but and-miss about calls. Everyone knew which afternoon in the week each woman was at home. On a hostess' "day" you did not leave cards. You did not call at all unless you paid the call in person. On all other afternoons you did not expect her to be in or receiving. You simply sent in the cards.

But in the first edition of Etiquette, published in 1922, times were changing. Emily wrote:

"But about twenty years ago the era of informality set in and has been gaining ground ever since. In certain cities old-fashioned hostesses, it is said, exclude delinquents. But New York is too exotic and intractable, and the too exacting hostess is likely to find her tapestried rooms rather empty, while the younger world of fashion flocks to the crystal-fountain balroom of the new Spendeasy Westerns. And then, too, life holds so many other diversions and interests for the very type of youth which of necessity is the vital essence of all social gaiety. Society can have distinction and dignity without youth—but not gaiety. The country with its outdoor sports, its freedom from exacting conventions, had gradually deflected the interest of the younger fashionables, until at present they care very little whether Mrs. Toplofty and Mrs. Social-Leader ask them to their balls or not. They are glad enough to go, of course, but they don't care enough for invitations to pay dull visits and to live up to the conventions of manners that old-fashioned hostesses demand. And as these rebels are invariably the most attractive and the most eligible youths, it has become almost an issue; a hostess must in many cases either invite none but older people and the few young girls and men whose mothers have left cards for them, or ignore convention and invite the rebels."

And today? I cannot imagine

Raku Pottery Will Be Exhibited Here

A special art exhibition on Raku Pottery will be on display at Ulster County Community College from June 12 to July 3 during the Summer Sessions.

The display, being exhibited as a part of an on-going program in Visual Arts at the College, will be open to the public on the third floor of the college at 214 West Chestnut Street, Kingston, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Raku, a Japanese traditional process of pottery dating from the 16th century, now is being revived by American potters. Paul Soldner, of Aspen, Col., is one of the American potters working in this method. Seven of his actual pieces are included in this show.

The pottery in the exhibition by Soldner are two vases, a bottle, tea bowl and cup. In addition to these pieces, the display includes panels discussing the Raku process and a carousel tray with sixty-six 35 MM slides illustrating the pottery.

Traditional Japanese Raku ware incorporated a masterful command of asymmetric balance in design, a highly developed tactile sensibility in appreciation of materials, and a virtuosity of decorative techniques into the unified whole. The overall effect is spontaneously achieved finished work, characterized by the feeling of an intimate, transitory, insubstantial play of shadows.

All of this is in marked contrast to the rather austere monumentality of the works of most contemporary American potters. The blending of these two influences seems certain to produce a vivifying effect in the ceramicist's art in this country.

This current exhibition of Raku ware is sponsored by the New York State Council on the Arts in cooperation with the American Craftsmen's Council. It was organized by Professor Ruth Muroff, Coordinator of Art at Ulster County Community College.

Wedding Bells for Recent June Brides

Ellen K. Joyce Weds Edwin W. Craig

MRS. EDWIN W. CRAIG

(Photo Workshop)

Miss Ellen Katherine Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Joyce of Shokan, became the bride of Edwin William Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Craig of Route 4, Box 409, Maple Hill, Saturday, June 3 at a double ring ceremony.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Austin V. Carey, pastor of St. John's Church, West Hurley, officiated. Mrs. Aleksander Narel was organist and soloist. The church was decorated with white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white gown of alencon lace and peau de soie styled with a portrait neckline, long tapered sleeves, an empire bodice and a floor length A-line skirt. Her imported illusion veil was shirred to a cap of pearl edged leaves. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and white daisies.

Miss Barbara Stathis of New York, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a yellow low empire gown and carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies.

James Reynolds of 37 Emrick Street was best man.

Kathleen and Mary Purfield of Red Hook, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. They wore blue and pink empire gowns and carried baskets of spring flowers.

Ushers were Lawrence Joyce of Pine Hill, brother of the bride, and George Norton, 41 Emerick Street, this city, an uncle of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a reception was held for 150 guests at the home of the bride.

Mrs. Craig was graduated from Ontario High School and is now attending Ulster County Community College. Her husband is a Kingston High School graduate. He served in the U.S. Army and is now a machinist at Hucktrol Inc.

After a wedding journey to Canada, the couple will reside at Maple Hill.

Crawford-Rumble Nuptials Announced

(Reynolds Photo)

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Crawford Jr. of 3 Oakwood Court, New Paltz, announce the marriage of their daughter, Diane Arpha Smith, to John Richmond Rumble Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richmond Rumble, 164 Canterbury Drive, Ramsey, N. J.

The wedding took place Saturday, June 10 at 3 p. m. in Anabel Taylor Chapel, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. The Rev. William Rogers, Presbyterian Chaplain, Cornell United Religious Work, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Edward Arnold, organist, played Bach selections. Baskets of yellow and white gladioli decorated the chapel.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, was attired in a princess line, A-line floor length gown, styled with a scoop neckline and accented with sculptured linen sleeves.

Her headpiece, a linen double Dior bow with bouffant, silk English illusion veil, was elbow length. She carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids with stephanotis.

Miss Jean Lynn Baltz of Kingston was maid of honor. Miss Baltz wore a yellow A-line floor length gown with three-quarter sleeves and accented at the natural waist with Swiss lace. Her headpiece was a cluster of flowers with bouffant veiling. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses with an accent of green.

Kristin Crawford of New Paltz, step-sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She was attired in a gown fashioned identically to the maid of honor's.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Louis Barrie, Yonkers, cousin of the bride, Susan Horsey, Woodstock, and Rozlyn Streifer, Coral Gables, Fla. The bridesmaids' gowns, styled the same as the maid of honor's, were Nile green. Each bridesmaid carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Miss Kraemer Sims, Bloomington, Ind., niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a short yellow A-line linen dress, accented at the natural waist with Swiss lace. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses with green accent.

James E. Rumble, Ramsey, N. J., was best man for his brother.

The ushers were James S. Sims, Bloomington, Ind., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, James Gaskell, Darien, Conn., Thomas F. Cayten, Toledo, Ohio, and Michael Collins, Ramsey, N. J.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the Statler Inn, Cornell University.

The couple will spend the summer in Mexico. For the wedding journey, the bride selected a yellow and green linen suit and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Kingston High School. She attended the College of Arts and Sciences, Cornell University, majoring in anthropology and was graduated this month. Mrs. Rumble will attend graduate school at New York University.

Mr. Rumble attended Ramsey High School. He was graduated from the College of Arts and Sciences, Cornell University in 1965. Mr. Rumble was a chem-

Then the Rains Came...and Pepitone Shares the Blame

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

They started late, in a drizzle and concluded in a downpour — the first night ceremonies for the Kingston Braves' home opener in the Interstate Baseball League Saturday night in hot, humid Dietz Stadium.

The game was halted by rain with the Braves leading Pine Plains, 3 to 4, with one out in the bottom of the first inning.

In the interim, the ridiculously small crowd heard Joe Pepitone, one of the New York Yankees glamor boys, bare his soul before a field microphone planted near first base.

It was his fault as much as anyone else's — this rough Yankee start in the American League pennant race, he told the crowd.

"I haven't been hitting the home runs," he confessed, "but I hope they'll start coming soon. Tommy Tresh has been bothered by injuries. Mickey Mantle is doing very well at first base."

"This is a first division ball club, could be a first place team," said the man with the most celebrated hair style in major league baseball.

Praises Pitchers

"Our young pitchers have been great and the pitching on the whole has been excellent," Pepitone added.

He concluded his brief remarks by wishing Fred Davi and the Kingston Braves good luck in their Interstate League campaign.

"Now, I think they want me to hit a few balls and I'll see what I can do," said the Yankee first baseman.

Farrell's Retort

This brought a quick retort from pint sized Jackie Farrell of the Yankees public relations staff.

"Yeh, Ralph Houk would like you to hit a couple at the stadium," quipped the irrepressible Farrell, one of the great humorists on the baseball trail.

Pepitone, immaculate in slacks and sport shirt and expensive foot gear, didn't have too much luck in Dietz Stadium either. He rifled one solid shot to centerfield but on the whole it was not an impressive performance. It was hardly a setting for heroes.

Farrell recalled that they had passed a motorized Army column on the Thruway on their way to Kingston.

"We could have used it against the White Sox this afternoon," said Farrell alluding to the 9-0 shellacking the Pale Hose had inflicted on the Yankees a few hours earlier at Yankee Stadium. "They did a better job on us than the Israelis did on Nasser."

Koenig Speaks

Alderman-at-Large Frank Koenig, representing the City of Kingston, congratulated Fred Davi on his 40th season in baseball and wished the Braves good luck in the 1967 campaign. Addison Jones, a long time baseball figure, and field manager Paul Gianuzzi were introduced and now it was time for baseball.

The chief umpire then took over, yelled play ball and a game that never should have been started was under way.

Within moments, Braves starter Ron Thomas must have thought his own teammates were conspiring against him. He got Pine Plains' leadoff batter, Matt Salvia, on a grounder to Manager Paul Gianuzzi at second. Jim Ball, the No. 2 hitter, fanned but the ball got through catcher Glenn Davis for a passed ball. Dave Barton hit a routine double play ball to Gianuzzi who bobbled it and then lost it and all hands were safe.

Thomas walked Mike Barton to load the bases. Ken Adams and Mike Barton rapped successive singles and Thomas uncorked two wild pitches. And just as fast as that Pine Plains had a 4-0 lead.

Hawkins Raps Homer

Undaunted, the Braves struck back with a vengeance in the bottom of the first against Jerry Knickerbocker. Dave Horton led off with a sharp single to center Jerry Hawkins teed off on a big hanging curve for a tremendous home run to left center. The blast soared over the centerfielder's head and rolled up the embankment under the parked cars.

Knickerbocker walked Lou Perry and got Chick Boice on a fly to right. Gianuzzi coaxed another walk and Joe Schabot singled to left scoring Perry to make it 4-3. After Davis walked, Pete Watzka appeared to be out on a pop fly behind third base but Ken Adams circled under the ball and never got near it. Given a new life, Watzka, the Kingston High School star, lashed a solid single to left, scoring Gianuzzi ahead, 5-4. The play on Schabot was close at the plate and a slight rhabard appeared in the making. But it was raining hard now and chief umpire Van Derzee figured it was as good a time as any to halt a ball game that never should have started in the first place.

Forty Players Qualify for Herdegen

Costello Cards 73 at Woodstock

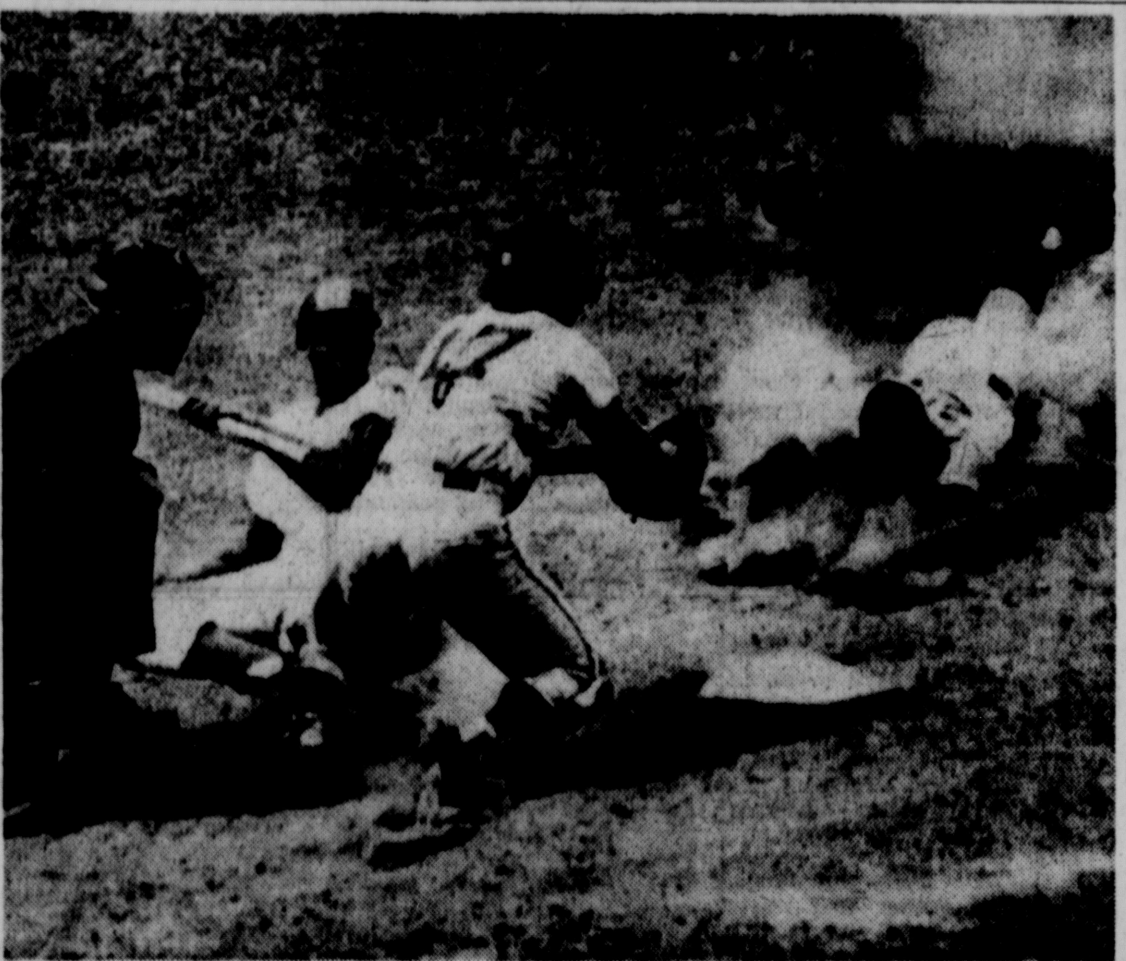

Long hitting Bob Costello of the Kingston High school varsity led Herdegen Memorial Tournament qualifiers with a 3-over-par 73 Saturday at Woodstock Country Club.

Forty players, two under the normal quota, have qualified for the county amateur championship tournament that gets under way next Saturday at Shawangunk Country Club in Ellenville.

Costello matched par figures on the back nine to go with an opening 38 for his 73.

Tied for second place with 74's were Ed Byman, a teammate of Costello's, and Doug Sheppard, golf and basketball coach at State University, New Paltz.

The fourth at-large spot went to Bill Cutler, one of the top players on the State U. golf varsity. Three others in the 12-player field tied for first alternate with 76's. They were Cy Pesavento of New Paltz and Wayne Bock and Joe Bostic of Kingston.

FURROWING INTO HOME—Ted Savage, Chicago Cubs, slides head first into home plate as part of a double steal in the eighth inning of Sunday's first game of a double-header with the New York Mets in Chicago. Both runners were safe. Moving toward Savage with the ball in his mitt is Mets' catcher Bob Taylor. Cub's pitcher Ferguson Jenkins tries to get out of the way. Cubs won, 5-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Bob Brown Curbs OBs; Wins President's Cup

Can a self-admitted "consistent 90-92" shooter shuck his bad habits overnight and win a major club golf title?

Bob Brown of Woodstock did it in winning the coveted President's Cup competition with a brilliant 11-under-par net 129 Saturday and Sunday at Woodstock Country Club.

A 20-handicapper, Brown fired consistently fine rounds of 85-84 on his own ball and had combined 40 strokes handicapping going for him to edge runnerup Alvin Moscovitz, another 20 handicap player, by two strokes.

Three strokes off the pace was Bob Fredericksen, a man who also has a bad habit — finishing second. He was the first round leader with net 63 and tagged on 69 Sunday.

Beats Out of Bounds

How did Brown, an IBM employee and new WCC member out of Greenfield, Mass. do it?

"I stopped hitting the ball out of bounds," he said. "I've been in a steady 90-92 rut all season because I was hitting too many balls out of bounds. I didn't have one in the 36 holes of the tournament."

Notching the first major victory of his career, Brown had enough cool to master Woodstock's challenging par-3 ninth hole the second time around Sunday. And they were playing from the blue tees which makes this hole one of the finest in the country.

On the first swing around Sunday, Brown ballooned to a triple-bogey 6 on the famed water hole. During the first round he had gone 4-3, not bad for a 20-handicap shooter from the "tiger tees."

Rochester Tops Toledo Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toledo's Mud Hens have played better than .500 ball against six of their seven International League rivals thus far this year but against Rochester's league leaders their performance has been a complete bust.

For a while Sunday it looked as if the Mud Hens would mend their ways and put an end to a pair of costly losing streaks that have them entrenched in the league cellar.

Playing the last of a four-game series against the Red Wings Sunday, Toledo grabbed an early lead and went into the ninth inning ahead 5-3. Then a home run by Curt Motton, a single, a walk, and a throwing error on a double play ball by Mud Hen shortstop Tom Matchick tied the game for Rochester.

Bob Floyd sent the Wings ahead 6-5 with a single and John Mason added an insurance run with a sacrifice fly and Toledo had dropped still another victory to the highriding Wings. The 7-5 defeat was also the sixth straight for Toledo.

Buffalo had been almost as good this year against Richmond, winning six of seven previous encounters. But the Braves turned the tables Sunday.

Leftlander Luke Walker struck out 13 in Columbus' first game victory over Syracuse and took over the league lead in that department—he now is 74 in 67 innings.

Manny Snagguilen slugged a three-run homer and Cotton Clayton a solo drive as Bill Short earned his fourth win of the year in the Jets' second game victory.

At Jacksonville, Danny Friesella, making his debut for the Suns, held Toronto in check for nine innings but faltered in the 10th as Bob Montgomery cracked a three-run homer and John Ryan followed with a solo blast.

Dave Morehead turned in a standout performance for the Leafs on the mound, allowing but three hits and striking out eight in recording his fifth win of the year.

East Team Picked For Grid Contest

ATLANTA (AP)—The East, hoping to rebound from a shelling by the West in the 1966 Coaches All-America football game, is loaded with talent for the 1967 battle July 8.

Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier, the comeback quarterback at Florida, and quarterback Bob Griese of Purdue head up the East team announced Saturday.

The West was announced a week ago.

Spurrier and Griese, who probably will share quarterbacking duties, will be able to call on some of the nation's top runners in Floyd Little of Syracuse and Nick Eddy of Notre Dame.

Target for the East's passes probably will be end Gene Washington of Michigan State. The West rolled to a 24-7 triumph last year, evening the series at 3-3.

Fencing Weapon

The foil, a four-sided blade with a rubber or leather tip at the end, is the standard weapon for fencing in the United States. The fencer's target is the torso only.

Turk, Merritt Tie in Seniors

Charles J. (Jimmy) Turk and Robert O. Merritt tied for the Seniors golf title with 79's Sunday at Wiltwyck Country Club and will play off at 18 holes next weekend.

In the 50-59 year division, there is still doubt as to the net winner, since Turk tied for low net with Judge Arthur Davis, Jr. with net 73.

As a result, should Merritt win the playoff for low gross, a match for low net would be necessary between Turk and Davis for the low net award. Should Turk capture gross honors, then Davis would be recognized as low net winner.

In the B class (60 years and over), Dr. Charles Kovacs took gross title with 45-41-68, with net honors going to Leonard Levy for his 90-15-75.

Twenty golfers competed with 15 in the 50-59 year age bracket and 10 in the 60-and-over group. The winners will be honored at the Wiltwyck Trophy Dinner in October.

Finger Lakes Winner

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP)—Real Reward circled the field at the top of the stretch and pulled away to a 1½-length victory over Needle Spar in the $1,700 feature Saturday at Finger Lakes Race Track.

Fairmar finished third. The winner toured the 5½ furlongs in 1:05.4 and returned $27.40, $14.60 and $6.60.

The attendance was 7,108 and the handle $402,633.

Replay Braves Game on July 1

The Kingston Braves-Pine Plains Interstate League baseball game, halted by rain in the first inning Saturday night, has been re-scheduled for Saturday, July 1, at Dietz stadium.

Tickets purchased for Saturday's game will be honored that night, Fred Davi said. Tickets also will be awarded for Yankees and Mets games.

Heuga Gets Pair Of Skiing Awards

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., one of the United States' top alpine skiers, gained two fresh awards over the weekend.

Heuga was presented the Beck Trophy and the Wallace Werner Award Saturday night by the United States Ski Association.

The presentation capped the Association's three-day annual meeting at the Lake Placid Club. About 250 delegates from the USSA's eight regional districts attended.

In other activities, Byron L.N. Nishkian of San Francisco was re-elected to a third one-year term as president. Dr. John Newdorp, Alexandria, Va., was elected first vice president and Charles Andrew, Denver, Colo., was elected treasurer.

Al Merrill, of Hanover, N.H., received the Julius Blegen Award for his efforts on behalf of American Skiing.

Other award winners included Warren Witherill, Lake Placid, Russell Wilder Award; Mike Gallagher, Killington, Vt., Finlandia Trophy; Brattleboro Ski Club, Brattleboro, Vt., United States Ski Club Award.

Nine persons were inducted in the Skiing Hall of Fame, which is at Ishpeming, Mich.

Selected were:

Ed Blood, Durham, N.H.; Hjalmar Hvan, Portland, Ore.; Jill Kinmont, Renton, Wash.; Toni Matt, Pawling, N.Y.; Otto Schmieds, Wilmington, N.Y.; Dave McCoy, Mammoth Mt., Calif.; Henry Hall, Farmington, Mich.; Ragnar Omvedt, Cary, Ill., and the late Perpi Teichner, who lived in Glen Arbor, Mich.

Saldivar Fights Howard Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MEXICO'S Vicente Saldivar makes the sixth defense of his world featherweight boxing title Thursday night in a return 15-round bout with Welshman Howard Winstone at Cardiff, Wales.

Saldivar 24, outpointed Winstone, the British and European champion, in a 15-round title bout in London Sept. 7, 1965. Winstone is 28.

The clever, hard-hitting Mexican won the 126-pound division title on Sept. 26, 1964, by stopping Sugar Ramos in the 12th round at Mexico City.

In title defenses he stopped Raul Rojas in 15 and outpointed Winstone in 1965. The following year he knocked out Floyd Robertson in two and outpointed Mitsunori Seki in 15.

Last Jan. 7, Saldivar repeated his victory over Seki, stopping the Japanese in the seventh round at Mexico City.

Adolfo Phillips Day; He Raps Four Homers

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Adolfo Phillips still takes his share of lumps, but the Chicago Cubs' Panama Flash has stopped running for his life—and started hitting back.

Phillips smashed four homers Sunday, driving in eight runs and leading the suddenly ferocious Cubs to a 5-3, 18-10 doubleheader sweep over the New York Mets.

The fleet outfielder, who set Cub records of 32 stolen bases and 135 strikeouts — and was plunked 12 times by pitchers for another club mark — last season, went down for the count when he tried to steal home in the eighth inning of the opener. But he bounced back in the nightcap, walloping three homers to vault into the National League's top five in both homers (11) and RBI (38).

Aaron on Rampage
While Phillips was larding Sunday punches against the Mets, Atlanta slugger Hank Aaron was on the run against San Francisco. Aaron collected four hits — including a pair of infield singles — and stole three bases before scoring the winning run from second on an infield error as the Braves edged the Giants 4-3 in 10 innings.

Cincinnati's league leaders dropped the first game of their doubleheader to Houston 7-4, then rebounded on Don Pavletich's grand slam homer for an 8-4 nightcap victory. St. Louis trimmed Los Angeles twice, 8-7 and 7-5, and Philadelphia buried Pittsburgh 14-1 in a single game.

Phillips, who started his power spree with a bases-empty homer in the second inning of the opener, tried to duplicate Ted Savage's steal of home in the eighth but was tagged — on the chin — by Mets catcher Bob Taylor. Adolfo lay on the ground for several minutes while the Cubs' trainer waved smelling salts under his nose.

Not long afterward, however, Phillips was back in the swing and his fans in the Wrigley Field bleachers were chanting "Ole Adolfo" again. His successive homers in the third, fifth and sixth innings accounted for seven runs.

The Record
Randy Hundley hit two homers, Ron Santo and Ernie Banks one each for the Cubs, while Ron Sroog, Jerry Buchek, Jerry Grote and Bob Johnson connected for the Mets as the clubs tied the major league record of 11 circuits in one game.

"I'm happy when I make the fans happy," Phillips exclaimed after raising his batting average to .314 with six hits in nine trips to the plate. "I don't try to hit home runs. I just try to meet the ball."

The Braves snapped a 3-3 tie in the 10th when Aaron singled, stole second and flashed home as first baseman Jack Hatt dropped the throw from third baseman Jim Hart on Denis Menke's roller.

Aaron's hustle enabled left-hander Denny Lemaster, who went the distance, to gain his seventh victory in eight decisions in a duel with loser Juan Marichal, 9-5.

Pavletich's grand slam capped a five-run uprising in the ninth that lifted the Reds past Houston in their nightcap. Singles by Devon Johnson, Jim Coker and Tommy Helms filled the bases and a walk to Leo Cardenas forced in the tying run before Pavletich connected against Dan Schneider.

Milt Pappas picked up the victory in relief after taking the loss in the opener as Bob Aspromonte paced the Astros' attack with a homer and double.

Mike Shannon drilled a run-scoring double in the ninth inning single in the second game the deciding run with a fifth inning single in the second game as St. Louis extended its winning streak to five games.

Longest Since '64
The Dodgers, whose seven-game losing string is their longest since 1964, battled from behind in the opener, with Jim Lefebvre's three-run homer sweep capping a four-run burst in the ninth. But St. Louis won it on Shannon's double after singles by Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda.

Maris stroked three hits in the first game and wrapped up the nightcap victory with a seventh inning homer.

Jim Bunning scattered eight hits while the Phillies bombed four Pittsburgh pitchers for 17. A six-run explosion in the first inning — keyed by Tony Taylor's triple and doubles by Cookie Rojas and Bunning — started the runaway.

Provenzano-Randall Tourney Winners

Card 120 Net In Twaalfskill Member-Guest

John S. Provenzano and his guest, Leon Randall, fired a spectacular 20-under-par best ball 120 for 36 holes to win the Member-Guest golf tournament at The Twaalfskill Club over the weekend.

Provenzano, a journeyman shooter, shook up the 32-player field with a 1-under-par 34 on the front nine Saturday and added a 40 for 74 on his own ball. This helped his team to get off to a flying start with a phenomenal "56" and three-stroke lead over the runner-up tandem of Augustus Brinnier and C. James Penrose of Wiltwyck.

On Sunday, Randall picked up the slack and the team produced best ball 64 for the combined 120 total, two strokes better than Brinnier-Penrose and four ahead of the third place team of James Berardi and Harvey Bostic, who also posted 63 Sunday.

Robert Carnright and Joseph Garland placed fourth with 127 and Ernest Schirmer and John Carnright were fifth at 129.

Bostic Leads Field
Harvey Bostic of Wiltwyck fired low gross for the tournament with 69-70-139, a two stroke edge over his long time friend and opponent, Leon Randall, who had 69-72-141.

The summaries:
John Provenzano-Leon Randall, 56-64-120.

Augustus Brinnier — C. James Penrose, Wiltwyck, 59-63-122.

James Berardi-Harvey Bostic, Wiltwyck, 62-63-125.

Name Ed Rodiek Middletown AD
Edmund C. Rodiek, baseball coach at Middletown High School, is the new athletic director for the Enlarged Middletown School System. The appointment, made last week by the board of education, is effective immediately.

Rodiek replaces the late Edward T. Faller, who died late last month.

A graduate of Middletown High School and Syracuse University, Rodiek has coached football and soccer in addition to baseball at the high school. His appointment creates a vacancy in baseball.

Rodiek, who came to Middletown as a teacher in 1945, has taught both physical education and mathematics. For the past four years, he has taught only mathematics.

He was a three-sport man at Middletown, playing football, basketball and track. He played on the Syracuse varsity football squad, which in 1938 beat both Colgate and Cornell.

After graduating from Syracuse in 1941, Rodiek taught at Cato-Meriden High School, coaching baseball and six-man football. He was in the Navy during World War II.

Rodiek will seek a varsity baseball coach and is also looking for an assistant track coach. Willie Carter, who had served as track assistant, resigned to accept an administrative position.

Vikings Sign Top Lineman
MIDDLETOWN — Nick DeCicco, one of the outstanding interior linemen in the Continental Football League for the past two seasons, has been signed for the 1967 campaign by the Hudson Valley Vikings of the North Atlantic Football League.

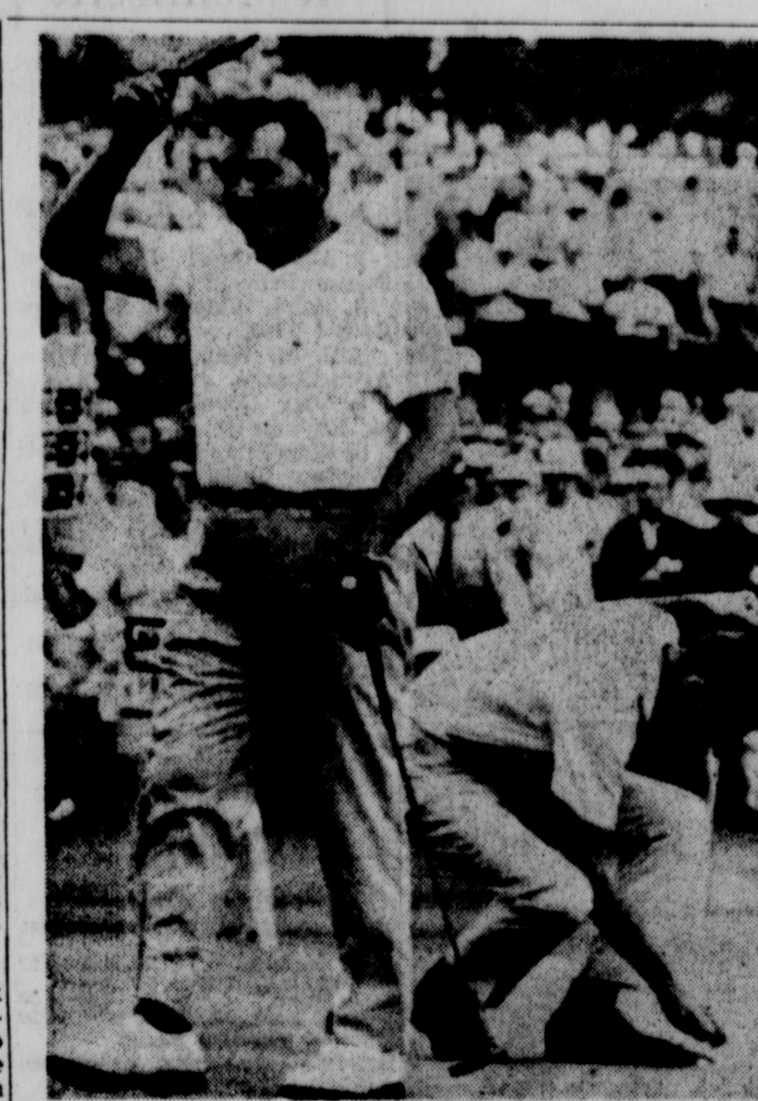

DeCicco, a 6-1, 250-pound center and middle guard, played for the Brooklyn Dodgers for the past two seasons after several years with the Newark Bears.

"Nick is one player we felt we really had to have," President and General Manager John J. (Jack) Halahan said in making the announcement. "We've been after him almost from the time our franchise was accepted by the NAFL."

Several teams from the other league (Continental) have been after him since the Brooklyn franchise was moved. He was one of Brooklyn's best men and we know that he's the type of player around whom we can build an offensive line," Halahan said.

DeCicco, 31, is a graduate of the University of Maryland. Married and the father of three children, DeCicco lives in Staten Island. He played varsity school football at Lafayette High School.

A versatile lineman, DeCicco also has played defensive tackle and end. "We really wanted DeCicco as a center, but because he is familiar with other positions, this adds to our depth," Halahan said.

BOROS SALUTES THE CROWD: Buick Open champion Julius Boros salutes the cheering crowd with his cap as he walks off the 18th green after holing out his last putt in Grand Blanc, Boros picked up the $20,000 first prize money and became the first pro golfer to win three tournaments this year. In background placing his ball on green to putt is R. H. Sikes who played with Boros and finished in a three-way tie for second. (AP Wirephoto).

Boros Wins Buick, Tuneup for Open

By CHARLES C. CAIN
GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP)

Newly crowned Buick Open champion Julius Boros faced the problem today that many another golfer has—the little woman thinks he's playing too much golf.

"I made an agreement with her that I would play in only 15 tournaments this year, and I have played in 10 already, so I guess I will have to cut down some. I gave her my word and that is my bond."

"It is hard to cut down when you feel you are playing well, but I will have to look over the rest of the tournament schedule and make some decisions on which tournaments, in addition to the Open, I'm going to concentrate on."

But Mrs. Boros probably won't complain about hubby's showing in the $100,000 Buick

Open Sunday. Boros, the old smoothie with the picture swing, won $20,000 first prize in what he considers a tuneup for next week's National Open.

The 47-year-old Mid Pines, N.C., swinger became the first pro on the PGA tour to win three tournaments this year. He previously had pocketed championships in the Citrus Open in Florida and the Phoenix Open.

Boros, who tamed the long, tough Warwick Hill Golf Club in recording his second Buick Open championship, admitted that much of his thought was devoted to this week's National Open at Baltusrol Country Club in New Jersey.

"They have a lot of long par-four holes at Baltusrol and although they are listed at around 470 yards, some of them seem longer to me," he said. "Warwick also plays long and was an ideal place to work on my game."

He worked so well that he posted a 69 Sunday—three under par—for a 283 total which left him three strokes up on the field.

But Yancey of Tallahassee, Fla., Bob Goalby, of Palm Springs, Calif., and R.H. Sikes of Cleveland, made a game try at catching the relaxed Boros but settled for 266s and pay checks of $8,166 each.

Boros picked up $20,000 top prize money to bring his total PGA career earnings to $56,000. He is one of the four players in the elite half-million dollar class, the others being Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Jack Nicklaus.

Boros, tied for the third-round lead with Kermit Zarley of Seattle, picked up successive birdies on the sixth and seventh Sunday, and from then on nobody could catch him.

Stocks, Midgets Winners Listed

Veteran ARDC driver Ray Brown won a spectacular 20-lap midget feature, Frankie Schneider was the winner of the stock race and Russ Meyers took the 20-lap limited sportsman race Saturday at the Orange County Speedway in Middletown.

Brown set a grueling pace to take the midget race. He grabbed the lead on the third lap and was never headed. Johnny Coy finished second and Bobbie Albert was third.

Schneider took the lead for keeps on the 29th lap of the stock feature and he withstood a couple of late challenges. Rags Carter was a close second, followed by Bob Malzahn, Bud Olsen, Bob Pickell and Butch Wilson.

Meyers, the Hawthorne, N.J. ace, gained the lead on the fourth lap of the 20-lap limited sportsman race and he held it for the checkered flag. Jack Zuidema, Stockholm, N.J., was second and Middletown's Eddie Davis finished third.

Herzog-Schovel Open City League Tonight

Herzog's Construction and Schovel Tree Service will get the City Baseball League season underway tonight, 8:15 p. m., at Dietz Stadium.

Greg Cappillino, who pitched Highland Central to the UCLAL and Section 9 baseball championship, will be the starting chucker for Herzog's, the defending titleholders.

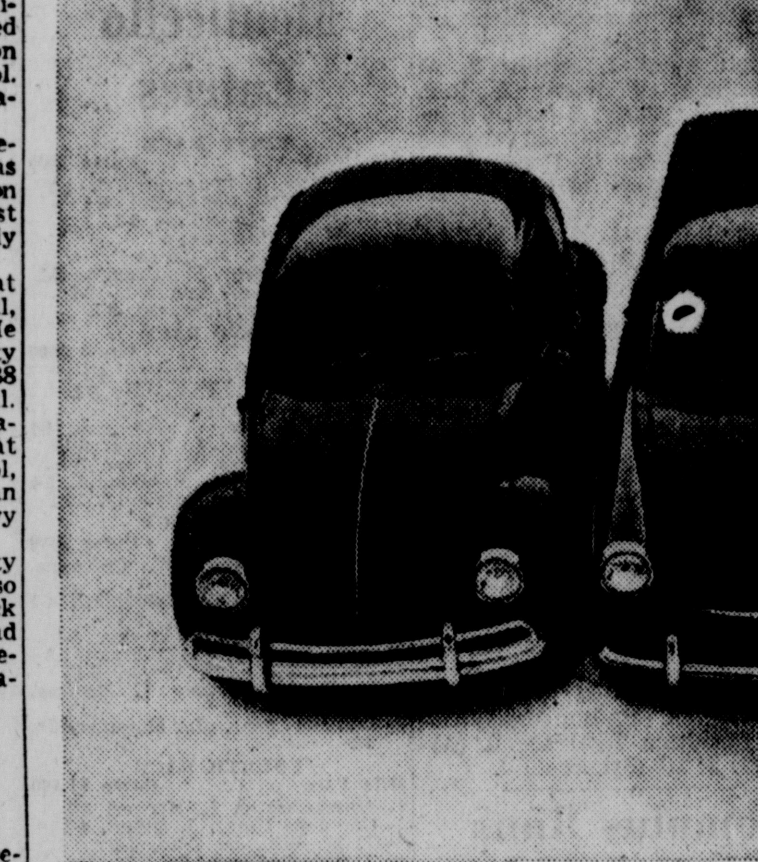

Ken Heppner, former Kingston High and Ulster Community College pitcher, will be the probable starter for Schovel's. Regulars returning to the Herzog lineup include Henry Hawkins, Len Whitten and Jack Watzka. Newcomers, in addition to Cappillino, are Charlie Moore, Ontario Central star and Butch Zullo, ex-Fordham player.

Hard hitting Chick Boice will lead the Schovel nine. Also on the team is Paul (Boots) Butkins, former Saugerties High and Ulster Community College ace. However, he's competing with Rider College in the NCAA baseball tourney and will not join the club until his college season is ended.

Tuesday's contest will match the Lions Club and the Kingston All-Stars at 8:15.

It comes in three economy sizes.

These are just some of the sizes Volkswagens come in. Regular, large and giant economy size.

The one on the right, our big bus-like box, and the one in the center, our medium sized Squareback sedan, are only about 7 inches longer than the beetle.

But don't let their size on the outside fool you about their size in the inside.

Just open a door and you'll find enough room for more than enough things.

Then there's the familiar bug.

While it's not as big as the other two VWs, it has plenty of room for 4 people and a small dog. Plus a suitcase for everybody but the dog.

All three Volkswagens do everything you expect from a Volkswagen. Except look silly. One of them (the Squareback) looks exactly like a car. They have air-cooled engines in the rear that won't freeze up in the winter or boil over in the summer.

They won't use any anti-freeze and are very easy on gasoline. (The bug and the Squareback average about 27 miles on a gallon of gas. The box about 23 miles.)

And they all go about 35 to 40,000 miles on a set of tires.

So you see, no matter what size we make VWs, they're pretty economical.

Why not come in and size one up?

Perry Suffers Ills, But Still Tops Birds

By ED SCHUYLER JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Perry provided the Minnesota Twins with relief in more ways than one and then went home in an effort to get some for himself.

Perry, suffering from a sore throat and fever, entered the second game of a doubleheader Sunday in the third inning. He left after the sixth inning and went home.

In between his arrival and departure, the veteran right-hander was tough on Baltimore batters, hit a two-run homer and singled in another run as the Twins won 10-7 after losing the opener 5-2.

Chisox Take Lead

While the Twins and Orioles were splitting, the Chicago White Sox moved into first place in the American League by a game over Detroit. The White Sox scored 2-1 and -2 victories over the New York Yankees and Detroit lost 6-4 to California.

Cleveland beat Kansas City 12-1 and 3-2 and Boston split with Washington, winning 4-3 before losing 8-7 in other AL games.

Penny, now 2-4, relieved Jim "Mudcat" Grant in the third inning with two runs in and a man on third. He gave up a run-scoring single and then got the next two men to end the inning.

Minnesota tied the game at 4-4 in the fifth when Ted Uhlenhuth singled and Perry hit his first homer, and won the game in the sixth with four runs.

Singles by Tony Oliva and Bob Allison and a walk to Rich Rollins loaded the bases. Then after a force out at home, Russ Nixon tripled and Perry singled.

The six-hit pitching of Bill Dillman and Curt Blefary's two-run homer in the fifth inning, which broke a 2-2 tie, gave Baltimore its first game victory.

Wayne Causey's RBI single in the seventh, the outfield throw to Fuentes was high and late. The Braves won, 4-3, in 10 innings. (AP Wirephoto).

Two Records Set

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)—New marks for the shot put and the high jump were set in the state's schoolboy record book today after they were set at the intersection of High School Track and Field Championships.

Roger Taylor of Canandaigua heaved the shot 64 feet, 5 1/4 inches at the meet Saturday to better by 9 1/4 inches the mark he established only recently.

In the high jump event, Randy Smith of Bellmore cleared the bar at 6 feet, 6 3/4 inches, one quarter inch higher than the standard set last year by another Long Islander, Henry Jackson of Huntington.

The sectional title was captured by Section 1, composed of Westchester County-area schools, with 80 points, while Section VIII (Long Island) with 65 points placed second.

Two meet records were set also as Ken Dietz of Rye threw the discus 176 feet, 9 1/2 inches, topping the old mark of 173-8 set by Bob Stoltman of North Tonawanda. A mile medley relay team mark of 3:33.7, set by New Rochelle, beat the old 1962 record of 3:34.1 by Mt. Vernon.

The 21st annual meet at Buffalo State College drew 9 of the state's 11 sections.

The summaries: 180 yard hurdles—1, Joe Kurzyk, Mt. Vernon; 2, Barry Burke Lindenhurst; 3, Dave Markell, Gowanda; 19.2.

Gerry Trot Set Saturday at MR

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pomp and Pay Dirt may be the sub-titles if the Speed in the E. T. Gerry Trot Saturday night has Dazzling in front of it.

Pomp was the fastest juvenile trotting colt last year and Pay Dirt led the list in money-earnings. Both may make their season's debuts in the Gerry for 3-year-olds at Monticello Raceway.

But also eligible for the Gerry is Irving Berkemeyer's Dazzling Speed, a roan son of Speedster. Dazzling Speed didn't start as a 2-year-old, but he already has won a stake this year, the $34,000 U. S. Harness Writers Trot at Roosevelt Raceway last April.

Pomp, a bay son of Star's Pride-Pompom, is owned by Arden Homestead Stable of Goshen and is driven by trainer Harry Pownall Sr. Pay Dirt, owned by Clearview Stables of New Canaan, Conn., is a chestnut son of Florican from the record-setting mare, Impish. He is trained and driven by veteran Earle Avery.

Stanley Dancer usually reins Dazzling Speed for his New Milford, N.J., owner.

Also coming up this week is a possible rubber match between Romeo Hanover and Afios Vic. Romeo Hanover won the International Pace at Yonkers Raceway two weeks ago, and Afios Vic snapped Romeo's 21-race winning streak in the Good Time Pace at Yonkers last week, with Romeo fading to hhrd.

Basically the same field will be in the 1 1/2-mile, $50,000 National Championship Pace at Yonkers Thursday night, including Orbiter N., second in the Good Time, Cardigan Bay and True Duane.

Mile clockings of less than two minutes were recorded in three races at Vernon Downs Saturday night. In the featured $3,500 Invitational Pace, all seven starters finished in less than two minutes.

Trowbridge defeated Key Club by a head to win the feature in 1:57 4/5. Nifty Nelse was third. Trowbridge paid $7.

Steady Moves won the fourth race at Vernon in 1:59 1/5 and Pronto Pal won the eighth in 1:59 4/5.

In other feature races in New York State Saturday night: —At Saratoga Raceway, Sargent Dares ($8.80) won the $1,200 Mayors Pace by two lengths in 2:03 3/5. Erin O'Dudley was second and Mr. Yankee Scott third.

—At Buffalo Raceway, Reo Water ($7) won the $3,000 Invtational Handicap Pace in 2:04 first round.

4.5. Pro Test was second and Jimmie Knight third.

—At Yonkers Raceway, Cana and Cerfair, Rochester, 6-3, dian-owned Golden Blend ($5.60) 6-2; Hettessheimer and Heron, won the $15,000 Pace by two lengths in 2:03 3/5. LaRoche lengths over Trader Naud and Creamy, Long Island, 6-4, Bon Jour Hanover was third, 6-4 and Vogel and Millstern, The time for the mile was 2:00 3/5.

U. S. Women Score Victory in Tennis

BERLIN (AP) — Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals captured singles matches Sunday and brought the United States its second straight Federation Cup, the women's equivalent to the Davis Cup.

Miss Casals of San Francisco outlasted Virginia Wade of Great Britain 9-7, 8-6, and Mrs. King of Long Beach, Calif., clinched the women's team world tennis championship by upsetting Ann Jones of Britain, 6-3, 6-4.

Name Is Changed

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Now it's the Oakland Clippers instead of the California Clippers.

The name change was made official by spokesmen for the National Professional Soccer League team Sunday.

Charge Efficiency Experts Hurting Nation's Defense

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Admiral Hyman Rickover's attack on modern management's tendency to judge the merits of technological goals in terms of cost rather than effectiveness strikes at the core of a very prevalent problem.

Rickover, who heads the nuclear-powered ship program, told members of Congress that America too often was measuring the worth of goals by a cost-effectiveness ratio. Perhaps, he indicated, effectiveness rather than cost should be the main ingredient of the formula.

Since this criticism was aimed chiefly at the Pentagon's management methods it is going to surprise some congressmen who had been convinced the tradition there was one of overspending rather than of ruthlessness.

Despite the tremendous outpouring of technology in this country—which points to an effective combination of scientific research and productive management—the men in these two endeavors have never completely trusted each other. Each fears that in strained times the other will revert to type: the manager to saving money, the scientist to plowing ahead with research, however costly.

This is just the situation that exists today in many corporations, foundations and other institutions, as well as at efficient-cy-minded Robert S. McNamara's Pentagon.

Business has, in fact, made a high art of efficiency in this space age. Efficiency, itself, is neutral; it can mean higher costs, it can mean lower costs. Frequently, low cost and high quality becomes the goal in various efficiency programs, such as the "Pride in Excellence" program—Raytheon.

The latest Rickover outburst came in testimony before a subcommittee, for which he described a new religion—or "fog bomb," as he also called it—that might be keeping the nation from developing technology that would save lives. That religion, or bomb, is the cost-effectiveness approach to goals.

Cost analyses, Rickover said, cannot take account of human life. It is a limited tool, he said, philosophically weak in that it maintains "the economic is fundamental, that all other factors—the social, cultural and political—are derivative."

Such an approach, Rickover indicated, deprives the nation of technological advances that would accrue if research were less restricted. And in place of research, the technical man may find himself immersed in administrative and procedural duties to satisfy the cost-efficiency program.

Nevertheless, some blend of cost analysis is necessary in every business.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, June 12, the 163rd day of 1967. There are 202 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1960, John Winthrop arrived at Salem, Mass., with the Massachusetts Colony charter.

On this date:

In 1776, a declaration of rights was adopted in Virginia.

In 1838, the territory of Iowa was organized.

In 1924, the Republican National Convention in Cleveland nominated President Calvin Coolidge.

In 1940, Japanese planes bombed Chungking, China.

In 1944, the Nazis launched flying-bomb attacks against Britain.

In 1963, the Mississippi Negro civil rights leader, Medgar Evers, was murdered in front of his home in Jackson, Miss.

Ten years ago—The United States rejected a Soviet proposal for a four-power declaration renouncing the use of force in the Middle East.

Five years ago—President Roberto Chiari of Panama arrived in Washington to discuss the Panama Canal treaty with President John F. Kennedy.

One year ago—After a long time out of public view, former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev showed up at a Moscow polling place.

Heads Vikings

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Rodney Lindwall, a civil engineer from Omaha, Neb., has been named national chief of the Independent Order of Vikings.

The selection of Lindwall to succeed Everett G. Winters of Luke Forest, Ill., was made Saturday near the close of the group's three-day, 58th grand lodge convention here. The 500 delegates also heard a congressman call the Vietnam conflict the United States' "first winless war."

When the man asked for a good singing canary, the pet store owner said,

Owner—You've come to the right place. This one sings like Sinatra, and only $1.000.

Customer—Pretty steep, but if he's that good, I'll take him.

Owner—Not so fast, sir. To get him, you'll have to take that other bird, too.

The customer looked at the second bird, an old and ruffled parrot, with rings under his eyes.

Customer—Why do I have to buy him?

Owner—Because he's the arranger.

One Man To Another (during a talk)—You say you are your wife's third husband?

Other Man—No, I am her fourth husband.

First Man—Heavens, man! you are not a husband—you're a habit.

Middle age is that time in life when you can feel bad in the morning without having had fun the night before.

The only thing I can see wrong with Social Security is that it guarantees you a steak after your teeth are gone.

A raise is an increase in pay that enables a man to live the way he has already been living.

Why We Say--

"APPLE POLISHING"

FROM EVE: When we do "apple polishing" today, we use an extra amount of flattery. The expression alludes to an ancient belief that the serpent in the Garden of Eden polished one apple to make it attractive to Eve.

WEATHER FORECAST—Tonight showers are forecast for the north Pacific coast, northern and central Rockies, portions of the central Plains and Great Lakes and for northern New England. It will be warmer in the mid-Atlantic states and cooler in the central Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map).

Cooler Air Due Middle Part of Week

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Extended forecast for Upstate New York, as reported by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Tuesday through Saturday:

Temperatures are expected to average near normal levels. Daily highs will be in the upper 70s and low 80s, and overnight lows in the 50s and low 60s. Quite warm then turning cooler at the middle of week before returning to normal around the end of week.

Precipitation may total one half to three quarters of an inch or more in scattered showers at the beginning and more general showers toward the end of the week.

Retarded Group Meeting Slated Thursday Night

The June meeting of the Ulster County Chapter New York State Association for Retarded Children will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, June 15, in the cafeteria of the George Washington School.

Edward Crosby, chapter president, will give the annual president's report, which will be followed by the election of officers.

Final plans for the summer camp programs for retarded children will be announced. There are two summer camp programs in Ulster County, one in the Ellenville area and one in the Kingston area. Information about these programs is available from the office of the Ulster County Association for Retarded Children.

The Ulster County Chapter New York State Association for Retarded Children is a unit member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Approve Prison Term of Trio in Saigon Slaying

SAIGON (AP) — The commanding general of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division has approved the sentences of three soldiers convicted in the rape-murder of a Vietnamese girl.

Maj. Gen. John J. Tolson, however, reduced part of the sentence against a fourth man in the case.

Tolson approved Saturday the following sentences, which had been ordered by a court-martial:

—Sgt. David Gervase, 20, Angola, N.Y., 10 years at hard labor, dishonorable discharge, total forfeiture of pay and reduction to the lowest grade. Gervase was convicted of unpremeditated murder.

—Pvt. Steven C. Thomas, 21, Brooklyn, N.Y., life imprisonment, dishonorable discharge, total forfeiture of pay and reduction to the lowest grade. Thomas was convicted of rape and unpremeditated murder.

—Pfc. Joseph C. Garcia, 20, of Albuquerque, N.M., 15 years at hard labor, dishonorable discharge, total forfeiture of pay and reduction to the lowest grade. He was convicted of rape.

Tolson reduced to four years at hard labor the eight-year term against Pfc. Cipriano Garcia, 21, of San Antonio, Tex. Garcia, convicted of rape and unpremeditated murder, also was sentenced to a dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of $50 a month for 96 months and reduction to the lowest grade.

The attempt to raise the debt limitation by $29 billion was defeated last Wednesday by a vote of 210 to 197, the Committee noted. Rep. Resnick was one of the Democrats voting for the increase requested by President Johnson.

"The House vote was an expression of public disenchantment with the incessant increases in Federal debt, spending and taxes," the committee said. "But apparently Rep. Resnick hasn't gotten the message. His vote in favor of a spending is out of step with massive increase in Federal spending is out of step with the Congress and the country."

The committee noted that the $29 billion debt increase which the President requested came on top of a $6 billion boost approved less than three months ago by Congress. If it had been enacted, the GOP group said it would have meant a $72 billion increase in the public debt ceiling since 1961 when the Democrats came into office.

The Committee called for cutbacks in Federal domestic spending while the Vietnam war continued and said it hoped Congressman Resnick would support these reductions.

Mayor, Wickham Attend Parley

Kingston Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan and City Engineer Thomas Wickham are attending a conference of the New York State Mayor's Association at the Hotel Syracuse until Thursday.

It is expected that Mayor Garraghan will address the group on his proposals for a fire district in Kingston. Wickham was also slated to speak but officials at his office said he left no word on the topic.

N. Y. Second In Viet Toll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only California leads New York State in the number of military deaths in Vietnam from both hostile and non-hostile causes, the Defense Department says.

Of the 10,623 total fatalities, California has lost 937 and New York has lost 745 men, Pennsylvania is third with 656.

All of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and territories have men listed as dead in Vietnam through March 31.

The department did not breakdown the combat and non-combat death toll.

France's Rance River estuary has tides with an average 28 feet of rise and fall.

Dutchess Drowning

Frank Norkevich, 47, of 784 West Side Avenue, Jersey City, N. J., an employee of Stissing Lake Camp in Pine Plains, was fishing in the lake at 7:30 a. m. Sunday when his canoe capsized and Norkevich fell into the water. Dutchess County Sheriff's department men searched the waters all day and, at 6 p. m. skin divers recovered the body. Assistant Medical Examiner Dr. William G. Thompson ruled the death accidental asphyxiation due to drowning pending an inquest.

City police are seeking a battered Volkswagen which they believe hit a mail box, city road sign and a tree stump sometime Saturday night near 445 Abel Street. Police said they found a Volkswagen hubcap, fender guard and part of a grill at the scene of the accident. The sign read, "Road Narrows."

Fire Cancels First Speech of GOP Head
AVERILL PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Charles A. Schoeneck, the newly named Republican State chairman, certainly received an extremely warm reception for his first major speech—even though the talk was never delivered.
Schoeneck was guest of honor at the Rensselaer County GOP fund-raising dinner Saturday night when a fire broke out in the Crooke Lake Hotel, forcing the 800 dinner-guests to flee from the building.
The former Assembly majority leader from Syracuse had not started his talk when the flames "spurred out in the kitchen and a guest took the microphone to announce: "There is a fire, please file out."

Safety Council Meets Tonight

The Public Safety Council will meet tonight 7:30 in the city court room at city hall to discuss and vote on further aims and purposes of the organization.

Guest speaker will be County Judge Raymond J. Mino who will talk on current problems in crime and low employment. Judge Mino is one of the many public officials who have offered to further serve the community through this group.

Also up for discussion at the meeting will be action on city curfew laws. After determining that the present laws are vague and difficult to enforce, the group sent a letter to the corporation counsel requesting movement by the Common Council toward an enforceable law.

Safety Council Meets Tonight
The Public Safety Council will meet tonight 7:30 in the city court room at city hall to discuss and vote on further aims and purposes of the organization.
Guest speaker will be County Judge Raymond J. Mino who will talk on current problems in crime and low employment. Judge Mino is one of the many public officials who have offered to further serve the community through this group.
Also up for discussion at the meeting will be action on city curfew laws. After determining that the present laws are vague and difficult to enforce, the group sent a letter to the corporation counsel requesting movement by the Common Council toward an enforceable law.

Check Hit-Run Case
City police are seeking a battered Volkswagen which they believe hit a mail box, city road sign and a tree stump sometime Saturday night near 445 Abel Street. Police said they found a Volkswagen hubcap, fender guard and part of a grill at the scene of the accident. The sign read, "Road Narrows."

Fire Cancels First Speech of GOP Head
AVERILL PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Charles A. Schoeneck, the newly named Republican State chairman, certainly received an extremely warm reception for his first major speech—even though the talk was never delivered.
Schoeneck was guest of honor at the Rensselaer County GOP fund-raising dinner Saturday night when a fire broke out in the Crooke Lake Hotel, forcing the 800 dinner-guests to flee from the building.
The former Assembly majority leader from Syracuse had not started his talk when the flames "spurred out in the kitchen and a guest took the microphone to announce: "There is a fire, please file out."

School Children

A large proportion of children go to school in Utah than in most U.S. states. Recent figures show that at least 58 per cent of the population over age 25 has completed high school. The national average for the same age is 20 per cent.
